Borrowed car kills Wheeling woman

Thrown 75 feet; driver leaves scene of accident

Mrs. Marian Loibl, 23, Wheeling, was killed instantly about 5:30 Monday evening while walking on Milwaukee ave., near River rd. She was hit by an auto being driven by Earl J. Weckerly, of Wheeling, who had borrowed a car belonging to Nick Funk of Triangle Garage.

Marian and her sister-in-law, Mary Loibl, were on their way home from Pringle's Electric Shop on Milwaukee ave., expecting to pick up a ride when they reached River road. It was raining at the time.

SUDDENLY Mary felt a jar and her sister had disappeared. Her body had been thrown to the side of the road 75 feet distant. A motorist following the car being driven by Weckerly gave chase and obtained the license number.

He returned to the scene of the accident, leaving the license number with Mary. An army officer had stopped at the Clark service station asking Jack Wehmer to call an ambulance.

SHERIFF'S police officers, John Selle and Theo Kries were on the scene in a matter of minutes and although there was no sign of life, took Mrs. Loibl to the Northwestern hospital, where she was pronounced dead. Her neck had been broken, as well as both legs.

Mary Loible accompanied the officers to the hospital and gave them the license number of the car which had hit her sister. The license had been issued to Nick Funk, 34 South State road, Arlington Heights.

In the meantime, Weckerly had left the borrowed car in the yard of the Triangle garage, picking up his own auto. Soon afterwards Funk discovered that the grill work, bumper and fenders had been badly wrecked. Calling Weckerly, he was told that the latter did not know how it had happened.

WILLIAM MILLER, also employed at the Triangle Garage, was called to the Northwestern hospital, where he learned of the death of his sister. He phoned the garage and Lloyd Helm of the firm drove to the hospital, later going to the Morton Grove police station where he reported that the car was being driven by Weckerly when the accident occured.

AS THE OFFICERS were ready to pick up Weckerly, he walked into the station, admitting that he had evidently hit someone. He was taken into custody and released the next morning under $10,000 bond, awaiting the coroner's inquest.

The inquest was held at the Haben undertaking parlors in Skokie Wednesday. Weckerly stated that he thought he had just brushed by some person and did not realize he had actually hit anybody. The jury gave a verdict of accidental death, thereby liberating Weckerly from a charge of manslaughter.

THE REMAINS of Mrs. Loibl are resting at the Haben funeral home, Wheeling. Funeral will be held at the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at two o'clock, with interment in Ridgewood cemetery.

Deceased leaves her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller. A brother, William Miller, is employed in the Triangle garage.

Marian was born in Wheeling April 29, 1924. She married John Loibl March 14, 1944.

Circus adds $125 to Youth Center treasury

A capacity crowd greeted the Ayres and Kathryn Davies Circus at their opening performance on Sunday afternoon at the Arlington Heights high school.

Those who had found it hard to conceive of a real circus in a high school gym, were convinced by the end of the show that it was an excellent entertainment, with many of the thrills of the big summertime events.

From the opening act of Patsy Lee's dogs to the sensational finale, "The Whirl of Death," it was a well run display of talent, lovely costumes and enjoyable comedy. The animals from the little monkey to Captain Christy's lions, were well trained. Little Tama Frank, Jr., with his rope spinning act, the zany antics of the clowns and Paul Zallee and his juggling delighted the youngsters.

Nearly 1100 people enjoyed the circus in its two showings under the sponsorship of Ramble Inn and $125 has been added to the Youth Center funds for future activities.

Spectre of Three States highway raises head again

The three-states highway is still on the books of the state highway department and developers of a large block of land north of the corporate limits of Arlington Heights have been told by the Arlington Zoning Board that provision must be made for the dedication of 100 feet for road purposes as their part of that highway. The adjoining tract will be expected to dedicate a similar width.

The only escape is a written statement from somebody that the 3-States Highway has officially been moved to the edge of Stonegate. No person in authority can be found who will make such a statement.

AT THE REQUEST of Stonegate residents, the village board recently renamed that thoroughfare through the village to Windsor drive, but that arterial highway is not so easily rubbed out.

Stonegate has been told that the road will be moved west to the edge of Stonegate, later curving to the east to follow its original route. Until the relocation becomes official, the hands of the zoning board are tied.

COUNTY TO IMPROVE MT. PROSPECT ROAD NORTH OF HIGGINS

The county board on Thursday adopted a resolution for the improvement of Mt. Prospect rd. from Higgins rd. to Golf rd., a distance of nearly three miles, at a total cost of $170,000. The stretch involved runs through Elk Grove township, Maine township and the city of Des Plaines.

The improvement will be a crushed stone surface course 22 feet wide, with grading, drainage structures, and other highway appurtenances.

Mt. Prospect rd. north of Rte. 58 and through the village of Mt. Prospect has been previously improved.

County board given 1948 budget of $30,000,000

Raise in wages would add 2 million; county finances in good shape

A preliminary 1948 comptroller's budget estimate of $29,185,853 for Cook county was submitted to the county board Thursday by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, as comptroller. This was the largest budget figure proposed in the county's history, being $1,060,590 above this year's appropriations.

In addition, Mr. Flynn submitted a letter to the board recommending "deep consideration" of the question of a pay raise to all 6,000 county employes, who, he observed, are entitled to "a living wage." This would mean an added $2,000,000 in the budget, if the raise were 10 per cent.

This would leave the budget maximum comfortably at $36,185,852, mainly as a result of the change from 37 to 100 per cent valuation in 1943.

Hearings on the budget are extwo, with final action hoped for pected to start within a week or by January 1, instead of last year's mid-February.

THE BOARD adopted a resolution by President Erickson to permit absence without loss of pay to all Legion members who are county employes and are asked to participate as color guards, firing squad, and burial details for veterans who are brought back for burial here.

Half as many polio cases have been reported this year in Cook County as for the same period in 1946, health officials announced.

To date there have been 462 cases reported and 11 deaths. Of that total 1,390 cases and all 11 deaths were reported in the City of Chicago while suburbs accounted for 72 of the cases: Last year there were 902 cases and 54 deaths: 692 cases and 4 deaths in the city and 210 suburban cases and 9 deaths.

Only one new suburban case was reported this week. That was the 3-year-old boy in Blue Island.

Since Wednesday the city has reported three new cases. They are a 9-year-old girl in the 4200 block of Barry avenue, a 48-year old man in the 8900 block of Buffalo avenue and a 22-year-old woman in the 200 block of East Chestnut street.

New boiler and boiler room at St. Peter school

Work has begun on the construction of a new boiler room for St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights. A new oil consuming burner will be installed in the building at an estimated cost for both building and burner, of $10,000.

Constructed of both concrete and brick, the building will measure approximately 22x24 ft. and have a chimney of about 60 ft. The boiler room ceiling will be as high as the ceiling of the school basement and will stand on the east side of the school.

Radio pastor to speak at community-wide Thanksgiving service

Dr. Frederick K. Stamm, nationally known for his "Highlights of the Bible" summer radio program, will be the guest speaker for the community-wide Thanksgiving service in Arlington Heights. Members of all faiths are invited to the services that will be held at the high school auditorium the evening before Thanksgiving at eight o'clock.

Dr. Stamm is known to millions of Americans through his Sunday morning NBC broadcasts during the summer months sponsored by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

For a number of years Dr. Stamm served as minister at the Congregational Church in Brooklyn, New York. In 1935 he served as exchange pastor for England and Scotland. In 1943 he took over the pulpit of the First Congregational Church of Chicago, one of the city's oldest and largest churches. He is also a frequent contributor to many of the country's leading magazines.

"A Thanksgiving for Today," will be the title of Dr. Stamm's address, Nov. 26, at the community services.

County authorizes road acceptance after 15 year use

Residents of Chestnut street, between Palatine and Rand rds., north of Arlington Heights are now assured that they will be able to get in and out during the coming winter. Because there had been no formal dedication of land for road purposes, Barney Runge, road commissioner, refused to use township funds to improve the road.

Twenty-two residents appeared before the Wheeling town board last week asking for relief. A communication from the county highway department has advised the township officials that any road that has been publicly used for fifteen years becomes a highway and township funds can be rightly used for its maintenance. Commissioner Runge immediately got busy.

Appoint Com. Busse on committee to act on public health report

Acting at the request of Samuel A. Goldsmith, chairman of the advisory committee, Chicago-Cook county Health Survey, President William N. Erickson of the county board last week appointed six county commissioners as a committee to carry out such recommendations of the United States Public Health service in the survey as are practicable.

Named to the committee were James Ashenden, chairman of the Oak Forest committee, Arthur X. Elrod, chairman of county hospital committee, Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey, William Busse, George A. Miller and Mario G. Tonelli.

Taylor Lewis to open studio in San Francisco

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Lewis will leave Arlington Hgts. Nov. 28 for their future home in San Francisco, Calif., where Mr. Lewis will open a studio. They spent two months there this year and think there is an excellent opening there.

Schools to get safety awards by motor club

Certificates of award will be presented to twenty-two public and parochial elementary schools of eight northwest suburban towns for outstanding achievements of their safety patrols, Chas. M. Hayes, president of the club, announced this week.

Presentation ceremonies will be held at 2:00 p. m. Thursday, November 13, at Des Plaines Jr. High School, Thacker ave., near Cora st., Des Plaines.

Each school will receive a certificate for having a perfect record of no injuries or fatalities among school children at crossings protected by the patrol during the 1946-47 school year. This is the fifth consecutive year the Chicago Motor Club has honored the safety patrols.

Civic leaders, educators, and police officials will take part in the program to pay tribute to the members of the patrols.

The safety patrol was permanently established in 1922 by Mr. Hayes to protect children on their way to and from school. With membership steadily increasing through the years, it has now enrolled 20,000 school children in Cook County to protect fellow students while the patrol throughout the nation numbers 1,500,000 members.

The organization has saved an estimated 7,000 lives in the motor club's territory in Illinois and Indiana since its inception and approximately 5,000 lives in Chicago alone.

The schools which will receive certificates are as follows:

Arlington Heights
St. James, St. Peters Lutheran, North and South.
Mt. Prospect
Mt. Prospect Public, St. Paul Lutheran and Strong.
Palatine
Immanuel Lutheran and Pennoyer.
Ontarioville
Ontarioville.

LIONS CLUB THANKSGIVING DINNER NEXT TUESDAY

Arlington Heights Lions and their invited guests will enjoy their annual Thanksgiving turkey dinner next Tuesday. It will be served at the Lutheran school hall by the ladies of that church. There are still a few more reservations available.

Tickets are $2 and $3. Arrangements have been made for an hour of good entertainment.

Adequate Fire Protection Needs Modern Equipment

Arlington Heights voters will go to the polls next Tuesday to vote on an $18,000 bond issue, which if approved will give the village the latest in modern fire fighting equipment. At present it has two outfits, one of which, purchased 20 years ago, has become almost obsolete. The other is ten years old. The capacity of each is only 500 gallons a minute. The proposed engine would be of 750 gallon capacity.

Local firemen, in asking for approval of the bonds, point to the fact that the increasing number of homes is increasing their responsibility for adequate fire protection. "Of course," says Chief Winkelmann, "if all fires are discovered before they gain headway and only one occurs at a time, our present equipment might suffice. But we have no such guarantee from Providence, and for the same reason that householders carry fire insurance, the municipality should have a modern fire fighting equipment."

The village board, in authorizing the election, is placing the decision up to the voters and tax payers. Delivery dates on fire engines are as problematical as on auto and other machinery. By the time the new equipment is placed in service, even if ordered next week, there may be five hundred more residents and several hundred more homes.

The ratio of fire protection per home drops as additional homes are built. The village is spending a lot of money to provide an adequate supply of water but a storage tank full of water in case of a bad fire is no good without the proper equipment to handle ti.

The bond money would be used for the fire engine purchase, remodeling of quarters to accommodate the larger machine and purchase of other equipment. Polling places will be at Presbyterian church hall for those residing north of the track and at the village hall for those on the south side.

High school report cards out Nov. 10

Report cards were distributed Monday, November 10, to Arlington Heights Township high school students. This year students will receive four cards, one from each teacher. An interpretation of grades for both citizenship and scholarship appears on the back of each card.

Citizenship reports include cooperation, reliability, industry and initiative, while scholastic attainment is represented by A, B, C, D, F, and P, (a provisional grade representing effort rather than attainment).

Report cards were withheld from those students owing a library fine or other fines.

Village lets contract for well improvement

Arlington Heights village board in an adjourned session Monday night, let the contracts for the pump and equipment at the north well, totaling $13,270.

Standard Power & Equipment Co. was the successful bidder for the pump and electrical equipment and Butler & Weisenbach was awarded the contract for changes in the building.

THE BOARD was in a bid letting mood and on the recommendation of the street committee, authorized the purchase of a Diamond T. truck to cost $3,027.67.

Ed. Sander was given permission to install sewer and water main connections for his new woodworking plant which will be erected at Beverly Lane and Kensington road, Arlington's east factory district.

THE HIGH school was given authority to place barbed wire at the top of the wire fence surrounding the athletic field. The wire is not aimed to increase the number of paying customers, but to discourage Young America from climbing the wire as a pastime.

Louis Dahlgren asked the village to save a large elm tree at Oakton and Princeton by the application of tree surgery. The village will investigate.

Hieber & Csanadi operators of Hotpoint store

Messrs. George C. Hieber and Stephen Csanadi have taken over the Hotpoint store formerly conducted under the firm name of Hieber-Muller & Schneberger at 11 West Davis St., Arlington Heights.

The new firm will be known as Hieber & Csanadi Inc. The sale of this business was contemplated and approved just prior to the death of H. F. Muller.

THIS STORE was formerly operated as a sales agency for electric supplies and household appliances, installation of oil burners. The general electric contracting was operated by Stephen Csanadi under the firm name of Stephen Electric Co. Under the new firm, these activities will be combined, selling electrical appliances and supplies and performing general electrical contracting and repairs.

Mr. Hieber needs no introduction, and it goes without saying that he is quite familiar with the electric appliance business and proposes at all times to carry a first class grade of electrical merchandise and give courteous and prompt attention to all patrons.

Mr. Csanadi is widely known through his contracts in the general electric contracting business, having worked in this field for a number of years. He has a reputation for prompt and efficient service which will be continued in the new firm.

THE ARLINGTON Heights Hotpoint store opened April 1, 1946 when there was still an acute shortage of many electrical appliances, but as they made their appearances on the general market, they found their way into this store in increasing numbers and today is one of the best stocked stores with Hotpoint products and other kindred lines, northwest of Chicago.

THE SIZE and arrangement of this store permits an excellent display and it has become one of the show places in Arlington's shopping district.

Quality and service will be the outstanding features of this store. The Arlington Heights businessmen wish Hieber & Csanadi Inc. the best of success in their new enterprise.

PTA book fair Tuesday all-day, evening event

Over a thousand choice books for a child's library will go on sale at 1 p. m. Tuesday, November 18, in the Arlington Heights fieldhouse auditorium. This year the P. T. A. Book Fair is planned for the afternoon as well as evening—to give every mother, father, aunt, uncle, grandparent or friend of a child to browse through a beautiful book store right at home and make leisurely selections.

A corps of some forty mothers has been enlisted by Mrs. Clyde Emery and her committee to act as sales people. Decorations, which are being planned by Mrs. Erle Riley, will put everyone in a holiday mood. Mrs. Earl Ellis, chairman of the Book Fair, says that plans are being made to take pupils from both North and South Schools to the fieldhouse Tuesday morning, so they, too, may have the brightly illustrated books which thrill of seeing the hundreds of will be displayed on tables by grades.

TITLES SUCH AS "Little Lickety Split" (It's Fun to Do Housework), "The Touchdown Twins," "Eddie the Elephant," "Timothy's Angel," "Electronics for Young People," "The Story of Georgie the Pig," "Pioneer Pilots," "Biography of Ann Lawrence"—there's just not room to mention more—will help to make this a joyous "Book Christmas" that boys and girls will remember.

Though the local Parent-Teacher Association will benefit from the sale of each book, the public will pay no more than the regular list price. Magazine subscriptions will also be offered, not only on those recommended for children but also on most popular adult magazines.

The sale of books will be interrupted at 8 p. m. in the evening for the regular P. T. A. meeting, at which time P. T. A. members and the general public will be privileged to hear Mrs. Sora Barth Loeb, who has for the past 14 years been on the staff of "The Association for Family Living" in Chicago. Her subject, "The Influence of Literature on your Child," promises to bring a fund of information to every parent interested in his child's reading habits. Among other things, Mrs. Loeb will discuss what place fairy tales and comic books have in children's reading programs.

PRIOR TO HER career of family relations work, Mrs. Loeb was an instructor in psychology and has since maintained high academic ranking by winning a number of additional degrees through her studies of child psychology and related subjects. She is active in civic affairs and, in private life, finds her home a congregating place for children in her neighborhood.

Following the evening's program, book sales will be resumed and refreshments will be served. Mothers of the three sixth grades will be hostesses. No admission will be charged to the Book Fair or to the evening's program. Everyone is welcome.

July 4th money saves summertime program

Arlington Heights Community Council received acknowledgement Monday evening from the park district for its share of the net receipts from the 1947 July 4th celebration. Glen Benson, treasurer, reports that the recreational program of supervised play for both boys and girls and the handiwork classes would be impossible except for the yearly contribution from the council.

Costs of the swimming pool is covered by the sale of swim tickets and general tares, but there is no money for the other programs.

Last summer's recreation program exhausted all of the cash balance from the previous years. The 1947 program cost $1,300. There is only $1,100 available for 1948.

The "thank you" from the park board reads:

"The Arlington Heights Park District take this occasion to thank the Community Council for their most generous contribution to the Recreational Activities Fund, of the Arlington Heights Park District.

"Your contribution amounting to the sum of $1,105.52 has been turned over to the Treasurer of the Park District and the Board will allocate it to the Recreational Fund as requested.

"These dollars represent many hours of toil by your members and we trust that the recipients of the great pleasures derived from the Recreational equipment and activities for which they are spent, may return to your organization, sincere gratitude for your work and for the contribution you have made for the Recreational work of the Park District.

WILLIAM MILLER, also employed at the Triangle Garage, was called to the Northwestern hospital, where he learned of the death of his sister. He phoned the garage and Lloyd Helm of the firm drove to the hospital, later going to the Morton Grove police station where he reported that the car was being driven by Weckerly when the accident occured.

AS THE OFFICERS were ready to pick up Weckerly, he walked into the station, admitting that he had evidently hit someone. He was taken into custody and released the next morning under $10,000 bond, awaiting the coroner's inquest.

The inquest was held at the Haben undertaking parlors in Skokie Wednesday. Weckerly stated that he thought he had just brushed by some person and did not realize he had actually hit anybody. The jury gave a verdict of accidental death, thereby liberating Weckerly from a charge of manslaughter.

THE REMAINS of Mrs. Loibl are resting at the Haben funeral home, Wheeling. Funeral will be held at the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at two o'clock, with interment in Ridgewood cemetery.

Deceased leaves her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller. A brother, William Miller, is employed in the Triangle garage.

Marian was born in Wheeling April 29, 1924. She married John Loibl March 14, 1944.

Circus adds $125 to Youth Center treasury

A capacity crowd greeted the Ayres and Kathryn Davies Circus at their opening performance on Sunday afternoon at the Arlington Heights high school.

Those who had found it hard to conceive of a real circus in a high school gym, were convinced by the end of the show that it was an excellent entertainment, with many of the thrills of the big summertime events.

From the opening act of Patsy Lee's dogs to the sensational finale, "The Whirl of Death," it was a well run display of talent, lovely costumes and enjoyable comedy. The animals from the little monkey to Captain Christy's lions, were well trained. Little Tama Frank, Jr., with his rope spinning act, the zany antics of the clowns and Paul Zallee and his juggling delighted the youngsters.

Nearly 1100 people enjoyed the circus in its two showings under the sponsorship of Ramble Inn and $125 has been added to the Youth Center funds for future activities.

Spectre of Three States highway raises head again

The three-states highway is still on the books of the state highway department and developers of a large block of land north of the corporate limits of Arlington Heights have been told by the Arlington Zoning Board that provision must be made for the dedication of 100 feet for road purposes as their part of that highway. The adjoining tract will be expected to dedicate a similar width.

The only escape is a written statement from somebody that the 3-States Highway has officially been moved to the edge of Stonegate. No person in authority can be found who will make such a statement.

AT THE REQUEST of Stonegate residents, the village board recently renamed that thoroughfare through the village to Windsor drive, but that arterial highway is not so easily rubbed out.

Stonegate has been told that the road will be moved west to the edge of Stonegate, later curving to the east to follow its original route. Until the relocation becomes official, the hands of the zoning board are tied.

COUNTY TO IMPROVE MT. PROSPECT ROAD NORTH OF HIGGINS

The county board on Thursday adopted a resolution for the improvement of Mt. Prospect rd. from Higgins rd. to Golf rd., a distance of nearly three miles, at a total cost of $170,000. The stretch involved runs through Elk Grove township, Maine township and the city of Des Plaines.

The improvement will be a crushed stone surface course 22 feet wide, with grading, drainage structures, and other highway appurtenances.

Mt. Prospect rd. north of Rte. 58 and through the village of Mt. Prospect has been previously improved.

County board given 1948 budget of $30,000,000

Raise in wages would add 2 million; county finances in good shape

A preliminary 1948 comptroller's budget estimate of $29,185,853 for Cook county was submitted to the county board Thursday by County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, as comptroller. This was the largest budget figure proposed in the county's history, being $1,060,590 above this year's appropriations.

In addition, Mr. Flynn submitted a letter to the board recommending "deep consideration" of the question of a pay raise to all 6,000 county employes, who, he observed, are entitled to "a living wage." This would mean an added $2,000,000 in the budget, if the raise were 10 per cent.

This would leave the budget maximum comfortably at $36,185,852, mainly as a result of the change from 37 to 100 per cent valuation in 1943.

Hearings on the budget are expected to start within a week or two, with final action hoped for by January 1, instead of last year's mid-February.

THE BOARD adopted a resolution by President Erickson to permit absence without loss of pay to all Legion members who are county employes and are asked to participate as color guards, firing squad, and burial details for veterans who are brought back for burial here.

Half as many polio cases have been reported this year in Cook County as for the same period in 1946, health officials announced.

To date there have been 462 cases reported and 11 deaths. Of that total 1,390 cases and all 11 deaths were reported in the City of Chicago while suburbs accounted for 72 of the cases: Last year there were 902 cases and 54 deaths: 692 cases and 4 deaths in the city and 210 suburban cases and 9 deaths.

Only one new suburban case was reported this week. That was the 3-year-old boy in Blue Island.

Since Wednesday the city has reported three new cases. They are a 9-year-old girl in the 4200 block of Barry avenue, a 48-year old man in the 8900 block of Buffalo avenue and a 22-year-old woman in the 200 block of East Chestnut street.

New boiler and boiler room at St. Peter school

Work has begun on the construction of a new boiler room for St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights. A new oil consuming burner will be installed in the building at an estimated cost for both building and burner, of $10,000.

Constructed of both concrete and brick, the building will measure approximately 22x24 ft. and have a chimney of about 60 ft. The boiler room ceiling will be as high as the ceiling of the school basement and will stand on the east side of the school.

Radio pastor to speak at community-wide Thanksgiving service

Dr. Frederick K. Stamm, nationally known for his "Highlights of the Bible" summer radio program, will be the guest speaker for the community-wide Thanksgiving service in Arlington Heights. Members of all faiths are invited to the services that will be held at the high school auditorium the evening before Thanksgiving at eight o'clock.

Dr. Stamm is known to millions of Americans through his Sunday morning NBC broadcasts during the summer months sponsored by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

For a number of years Dr. Stamm served as minister at the Congregational Church in Brooklyn, New York. In 1935 he served as exchange pastor for England and Scotland. In 1943 he took over the pulpit of the First Congregational Church of Chicago, one of the city's oldest and largest churches. He is also a frequent contributor to many of the country's leading magazines.

"A Thanksgiving for Today," will be the title of Dr. Stamm's address, Nov. 26, at the community services.

County authorizes road acceptance after 15 year use

Residents of Chestnut street, between Palatine and Rand rds., north of Arlington Heights are now assured that they will be able to get in and out during the coming winter. Because there had been no formal dedication of land for road purposes, Barney Runge, road commissioner, refused to use township funds to improve the road.

Twenty-two residents appeared before the Wheeling town board last week asking for relief. A communication from the county highway department has advised the township officials that any road that has been publicly used for fifteen years becomes a highway and township funds can be rightly used for its maintenance. Commissioner Runge immediately got busy.

Appoint Com. Busse on committee to act on public health report

Acting at the request of Samuel A. Goldsmith, chairman of the advisory committee, Chicago-Cook county Health Survey, President William N. Erickson of the county board last week appointed six county commissioners as a committee to carry out such recommendations of the United States Public Health service in the survey as are practicable.

Named to the committee were James Ashenden, chairman of the Oak Forest committee, Arthur X. Elrod, chairman of county hospital committee, Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey, William Busse, George A. Miller and Mario G. Tonelli.

Taylor Lewis to open studio in San Francisco

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Lewis will leave Arlington Hgts. Nov. 28 for their future home in San Francisco, Calif., where Mr. Lewis will open a studio. They spent two months there this year and think there is an excellent opening there.

Schools to get safety awards by motor club

Certificates of award will be presented to twenty-two public and parochial elementary schools of eight northwest suburban towns for outstanding achievements of their safety patrols, Chas. M. Hayes, president of the club, announced this week.

Presentation ceremonies will be held at 2:00 p. m. Thursday, November 13, at Des Plaines Jr. High School, Thacker ave., near Cora st., Des Plaines.

Each school will receive a certificate for having a perfect record of no injuries or fatalities among school children at crossings protected by the patrol during the 1946-47 school year. This is the fifth consecutive year the Chicago Motor Club has honored the safety patrols.

Civic leaders, educators, and police officials will take part in the program to pay tribute to the members of the patrols.

The safety patrol was permanently established in 1922 by Mr. Hayes to protect children on their way to and from school. With membership steadily increasing through the years, it has now enrolled 20,000 school children in Cook County to protect fellow students while the patrol throughout the nation numbers 1,500,000 members.

The organization has saved an estimated 7,000 lives in the motor club's territory in Illinois and Indiana since its inception and approximately 5,000 lives in Chicago alone.

The schools which will receive certificates are as follows:

Arlington Heights
St. James, St. Peters Lutheran, North and South.

Mt. Prospect
Mt. Prospect Public, St. Paul Lutheran and Strong.

Palatine
Immanuel Lutheran and Pennoyer.

Ontarioville
Ontarioville.

LIONS CLUB THANKSGIVING DINNER NEXT TUESDAY

Arlington Heights Lions and their invited guests will enjoy their annual Thanksgiving turkey dinner next Tuesday. It will be served at the Lutheran school hall by the ladies of that church. There are still a few more reservations available.

Tickets are $2 and $3. Arrangements have been made for an hour of good entertainment.

Adequate Fire Protection Needs Modern Equipment

Arlington Heights voters will go to the polls next Tuesday to vote on an $18,000 bond issue, which if approved will give the village the latest in modern fire fighting equipment. At present it has two outfits, one of which, purchased 20 years ago, has become almost obsolete. The other is ten years old. The capacity of each is only 500 gallons a minute. The proposed engine would be of 750 gallon capacity.

Local firemen, in asking for approval of the bonds, point to the fact that the increasing number of homes is increasing their responsibility for adequate fire protection. "Of course," says Chief Winkelmann, "if all fires are discovered before they gain headway and only one occurs at a time, our present equipment might suffice. But we have no such guarantee from Providence, and for the same reason that householders carry fire insurance, the municipality should have a modern fire fighting equipment."

The village board, in authorizing the election, is placing the decision up to the voters and tax payers. Delivery dates on fire engines are as problematical as on auto and other machinery. By the time the new equipment is placed in service, even if ordered next week, there may be five hundred more residents and several hundred more homes.

The ratio of fire protection per home drops as additional homes are built. The village is spending a lot of money to provide an adequate supply of water but a storage tank full of water in case of a bad fire is no good without the proper equipment to handle ti.

The bond money would be used for the fire engine purchase, remodeling of quarters to accommodate the larger machine and purchase of other equipment. Polling places will be at Presbyterian church hall for those residing north of the track and at the village hall for those on the south side.

High school report cards out Nov. 10

Report cards were distributed Monday, November 10, to Arlington Heights Township high school students. This year students will receive four cards, one from each teacher. An interpretation of grades for both citizenship and scholarship appears on the back of each card.

Citizenship reports include cooperation, reliability, industry and initiative, while scholastic attainment is represented by A, B, C, D, F, and P, (a provisional grade representing effort rather than attainment).

Report cards were withheld from those students owing a library fine or other fines.

Village lets contract for well improvement

Arlington Heights village board in an adjourned session Monday night, let the contracts for the pump and equipment at the north well, totaling $13,270.

Standard Power & Equipment Co. was the successful bidder for the pump and electrical equipment and Butler & Weisenbach was awarded the contract for changes in the building.

THE BOARD was in a bid letting mood and on the recommendation of the street committee, authorized the purchase of a Diamond T. truck to cost $3,027.67.

Ed. Sander was given permission to install sewer and water main connections for his new woodworking plant which will be erected at Beverly Lane and Kensington road, Arlington's east factory district.

THE HIGH school was given authority to place barbed wire at the top of the wire fence surrounding the athletic field. The wire is not aimed to increase the number of paying customers, but to discourage Young America from climbing the wire as a pastime.

Louis Dahlgren asked the village to save a large elm tree at Oakton and Princeton by the application of tree surgery. The village will investigate.

Hieber & Csanadi operators of Hotpoint store

Messrs. George C. Hieber and Stephen Csanadi have taken over the Hotpoint store formerly conducted under the firm name of Hieber-Muller & Schneberger at 11 West Davis St., Arlington Heights.

The new firm will be known as Hieber & Csanadi Inc. The sale of this business was contemplated and approved just prior to the death of H. F. Muller.

THIS STORE was formerly operated as a sales agency for electric supplies and household appliances, installation of oil burners. The general electric contracting was operated by Stephen Csanadi under the firm name of Stephen Electric Co. Under the new firm, these activities will be combined, selling electrical appliances and supplies and performing general electrical contracting and repairs.

Mr. Hieber needs no introduction, and it goes without saying that he is quite familiar with the electric appliance business and proposes at all times to carry a first class grade of electrical merchandise and give courteous and prompt attention to all patrons.

Mr. Csanadi is widely known through his contracts in the general electric contracting business, having worked in this field for a number of years. He has a reputation for prompt and efficient service which will be continued in the new firm.

THE ARLINGTON Heights Hotpoint store opened April 1, 1946 when there was still an acute shortage of many electrical appliances, but as they made their appearances on the general market, they found their way into this store in increasing numbers and today is one of the best stocked stores with Hotpoint products and other kindred lines, northwest of Chicago.

THE SIZE and arrangement of this store permits an excellent display and it has become one of the show places in Arlington's shopping district.

Quality and service will be the outstanding features of this store. The Arlington Heights businessmen wish Hieber & Csanadi Inc. the best of success in their new enterprise.

PTA book fair Tuesday all-day, evening event

Over a thousand choice books for a child's library will go on sale at 1 p. m. Tuesday, November 18, in the Arlington Heights fieldhouse auditorium. This year the P. T. A. Book Fair is planned for the afternoon as well as evening—to give every mother, father, aunt, uncle, grandparent or friend of a child to browse through a beautiful book store right at home and make leisurely selections.

A corps of some forty mothers has been enlisted by Mrs. Clyde Emery and her committee to act as sales people. Decorations, which are being planned by Mrs. Erle Riley, will put everyone in a holiday mood. Mrs. Earl Ellis, chairman of the Book Fair, says that plans are being made to take pupils from both North and South Schools to the fieldhouse Tuesday morning, so they, too, may have the brightly illustrated books which thrill of seeing the hundreds of will be displayed on tables by grades.

TITLES SUCH AS "Little Lickety Split" (It's Fun to Do Housework), "The Touchdown Twins," "Eddie the Elephant," "Timothy's Angel," "Electronics for Young People," "The Story of Georgie the Pig," "Pioneer Pilots," "Biography of Ann Lawrence"—there's just not room to mention more—will help to make this a joyous "Book Christmas" that boys and girls will remember.

Though the local Parent-Teacher Association will benefit from the sale of each book, the public will pay no more than the regular list price. Magazine subscriptions will also be offered, not only on those recommended for children but also on most popular adult magazines.

The sale of books will be interrupted at 8 p. m. in the evening for the regular P. T. A. meeting, at which time P. T. A. members and the general public will be privileged to hear Mrs. Sora Barth Loeb, who has for the past 14 years been on the staff of "The Association for Family Living" in Chicago. Her subject, "The Influence of Literature on your Child," promises to bring a fund of information to every parent interested in his child's reading habits. Among other things, Mrs. Loeb will discuss what place fairy tales and comic books have in children's reading programs.

PRIOR TO HER career of family relations work, Mrs. Loeb was an instructor in psychology and has since maintained high academic ranking by winning a number of additional degrees through her studies of child psychology and related subjects. She is active in civic affairs and, in private life, finds her home a congregating place for children in her neighborhood.

Following the evening's program, book sales will be resumed and refreshments will be served. Mothers of the three sixth grades will be hostesses. No admission will be charged to the Book Fair or to the evening's program. Everyone is welcome.

July 4th money saves summertime program

Arlington Heights Community Council received acknowledgement Monday evening from the park district for its share of the net receipts from the 1947 July 4th celebration. Glen Benson, treasurer, reports that the recreational program of supervised play for both boys and girls and the handiwork classes would be impossible except for the yearly contribution from the council.

Costs of the swimming pool is covered by the sale of swim tickets and general tares, but there is no money for the other programs.

Last summer's recreation program exhausted all of the cash balance from the previous years. The 1947 program cost $1,300. There is only $1,100 available for 1948.

The "thank you" from the park board reads:

"The Arlington Heights Park District take this occasion to thank the Community Council for their most generous contribution to the Recreational Activities Fund, of the Arlington Heights Park District.

"Your contribution amounting to the sum of $1,105.52 has been turned over to the Treasurer of the Park District and the Board will allocate it to the Recreational Fund as requested.

"These dollars represent many hours of toil by your members and we trust that the recipients of the great pleasures derived from the Recreational equipment and activities for which they are spent, may return to your organization, sincere gratitude for your work and for the contribution you have made for the Recreational work of the Park District.

For all of us, you did your best
May God grant you eternal rest.

Fred W. Gieseke

Fred W. Gieseke, veteran Arlington Heights business man, died at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon at his home on Kirchhoff road. His death was sudden and unexpected as he was in apparent good health.

Mr. Gieseke came to Arlington Heights forty years ago, purchasing at that time the general store of R. L. Precht, which he personally conducted until his partial retirement a few years ago when his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lemke became associated with him.

Mr. Giesek's activities were village wide. Associated with the late Otto Landmeier he was the pioneer developer of Arlington Heights. He subdivided a large part of the area east of State road. Mr. Gieseke took a very prominent part in civic affairs a quarter of a century ago and during the entire forty years that he resided in Arlington he has been recognized as one of its leaders. He was active for many years in the affairs of St. Peter Church. The present chimes in this church were given by him as a memorial. He was a devoted husband and father.

Mr. Gieseke was one of the organizers, directors and later president of the Peoples State Bank. He had a wide acquaintance, especially among the farmers of adjoining townships who not only accorded him their business, but also looked upon him as their friend and counselor whose advice could be asked at any time.

Mr. Gieseke was one of eleven children of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gieseke of Schaumburg and is the first one of them to pass away.

Brothers are John J. and Edwin W. of Roselle; Louis of Hebron; Herman and Arthur of Crystal Lake; Emil of Chicago, and William of Schaumburg.

Sisters are Mrs. Clara Fasse, Roselle; Mrs. Emilie Wilke, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Alma Rohlwing, Elk Grove.

He leaves his wife, Emma, nee Pfingsten.

Children are Mrs. Helen Winkelman, Mrs. Henrietta Lemke and Fred Jr. of Arlington Heights; Miss Loretta Fenz and John W. Fenz. Father-in-law of Elroy J. Winkelman, Ray Lemke, Mary Frances Gieseke and Ruth Fenz.

Mr. Gieseke had lived his entire life in Cook County. Born March 16, 1883 in Schaumburg. He was confirmed at the Schaumburg Ev. Lutheran church March 29, 1896, by Rev. Mueller.

He came to Arlington Heights following his marriage to Miss Hermine Fenz in 1907, who preceded him in death September 28, 1942. He was later united in marriage to Emma Pfingsten July 8, 1945.

Saturday and Sunday, November 22 and 23, are the dates set for the annual Arlington Heights St. James Catholic church Fall Festival. Members of the Guild and associate circles are working diligently to make this festival another outstanding success.

The various committees are headed by Mesdames M. Martini, N. Tischer, P. Christman, S. Kovacik, and J. Muran.

Mrs. P. Immel heads the fancy work booth, which will feature all hand made articles. This year the Prospect Heights Guild, a branch of the regular Guild, will also have a fancy work booth. One booth will contain Christmas wrappings and other things needed during the Yule season. There is also no doubt that the apron booth at the Festival will again prove popular.

A bake sale, of which Mrs. J. Raes is chairman, will be held Saturday afternoon. Two other committee chairmen are Mrs. Ed Weidner, donations; and Mrs. Vance Folkman, dining room.

A record attendance at the Festival is wanted for both nights. Members of the St. James Parish extend a cordial welcome to all.

This popular children's operetta will be delightfully portrayed in dramatic and humorous situations, as well as rhythmic melodies sung by a chorus of over 100 voices. Saturday and Sunday, November 22 and 23, are the dates set for the annual Arlington Heights St. James Catholic church Fall Festival. Members of the Guild and associate circles are working diligently to make this festival another outstanding success.

A baked ham supper held on Sunday evening will highlight the affair. Serving begins at 5 p. m.

The various committees are headed by Mesdames M. Martini, N. Tischer, P. Christman, S. Kovacik, and J. Muran.

Mrs. P. Immel heads the fancy work booth, which will feature all hand made articles. This year the Prospect Heights Guild, a branch of the regular Guild, will also have a fancy work booth. One booth will contain Christmas wrappings and other things needed during the Yule season. There is also no doubt that the apron booth at the Festival will again prove popular.

A bake sale, of which Mrs. J. Raes is chairman, will be held Saturday afternoon. Two other committee chairmen are Mrs. Ed Weidner, donations; and Mrs. Vance Folkman, dining room.

A record attendance at the Festival is wanted for both nights. Members of the St. James Parish extend a cordial welcome to all.

D. A. R. observe Armistice Day

As part of the Americanism work of this patriotic society, they showed a five reel color film on the United States to the foreign children of the surrounding neighborhood.

Mrs. Frank Fender, chapter chairman, also announces the first Americanism meeting of the Fourth Division of the American Revolution, held Friday, Nov. 14, at 11 o'clock in the Narcissus room at the Marshall Field & Co. Those planning to attend from the Eli Skinner chapter are Mrs. M. W. Grigsby, Mrs. Wm. North and Mrs. Frank Fender. Bill North, D. A. R. delegate to Boys' State, is to present his official report.

The feature of the evening will be the presentation of the operetta, "The Adventures of Pinocchio," by Theodosia Paynter, by permission of the publishers, The Raymond Hoffman Company, Chicago. This popular children's operetta will be delightfully portrayed in dramatic and humorous situations, as well as rhythmic melodies sung by a chorus of over 100 voices. Sunday afternoon, October 19, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, one of the most beautiful fall weddings was solemnized at St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, when Miss Lucille Harz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Harz of Palatine and Vernon Clausing, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clausing of Arlington Heights were united in marriage by Rev. L. V. Stephan. Mr. O. Kolb presided at the church organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in traditional white satin, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves ending in points at the wrist and a full skirt ending in a long train. Her full length veil, held in place by a beaded tiara, was edged in lace and ended in lace hearts across the bottom. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and white mums tied with tiny button mum streamers. A crystal necklace, the gift of the groom, was the bride's only jewelry.

Miss Cecilia Harz, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was made of peacock colored taffeta, fashioned with low rounded neckline, cap sleeves, fitted bodice and a full old fashioned skirt. She wore a tiara of peacock colored feathers in her hair and carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Gladys Neperman, Miss Lois Glave, Mrs. Viola Clausing and Mrs. Marilyn Felker wore raisin colored gowns fashioned identical to the maid of honors' and wore raisen colored feather tiaras in heir hair and carried bouquets of yellow mums.

Ervin Clausin, brother of the groom, was best man. James Roesner, Frank Felker, Francis Schaefer and Leo Neperman acted as ushers. The groom and his attendants wore tuxedos and had boutonierres of white mums except the groom, who had a white rose.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue dress with black accessories for her daughter's wedding while the groom's mother was dressed in aqua blue with black accessories. Both mothers had corsages of yellow mums.

Dinner for the bridal party was served in the school basement by the Dorcas Aid. The reception was held at Blue Moon, Elgin, for 450 people. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Viola Napermann of Dundee.

The young couple spent a two weeks honeymoon motoring through Wisconsin, Minnesota and Canada and are now at home in Palatine.

Before her marriage Mrs. Clausing was tendered four showers and a luncheon. Mrs. Leo Neperman was hostess to a kitchen shower at her home in Huntley. Mrs. Henry Hosener and Miss Cecilia Harz were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the Roesner home. A surprise shower was given by Miss Charlotte Snyder in the Snyder home. Mrs. Ervin Clausing entertained in her new home at a miscellaneous shower for the bride-to-be. The new Mrs. Clausing was guest of honor at a luncheon given at the Electric Club in Chicago by her employer and co-workers. Many lovely and useful gifts were received by the bride.

Present second car to Heights high school

Arlington Heights high school received its second car for its driver training course last week when George C. Poole presented a 1947 dual-control Ford to principal Knoeppel of the high school.

The Ford includes all the latest features of the new models, plus the dual features which enable local instructors to give training to would-be high school drivers.

Presentation of the automobile was made between halves of Friday night's football game between the Cardinals and Woodstock. Speaking for Mr. Poole, who was on the infield and not near the microphone, Bud Peters said in part:

"It is a thrill to watch these two high school teams as they participate in a sport that is exclusively America's. But, while we are enjoying this game, 15 persons will be killed in auto accidents—a shameful record—also exclusively America's.

"It is startling to know that ignorant driving has caused the deaths of 1,343 persons in Illinois the first nine months of this year. The fact that school officials of Arlington Heights recognize safe driving as an important subject in every student's curriculum, and that they are adding this course to the more popular arts, sciences and languages, is indeed an advanced step towards the preservation of life . . .

Mrs. John Wickman of Texas visited friends here.

Mrs. Amy Brown entertained nine guests at a one o'clock luncheon Monday. The afternoon was spent playing cards and high honors went to Mrs. J. Everett.

Vance Folkman is confined to his bed this week due to a virus infection in his throat.

Barrington may be one of the ongest contenders for the rthwest Conference cage title the season which opens next ek. The Bronchos (new coach s Harmon, former Northwest- n star) has two returning let- rmen plus a league champion phomore team moving up plus e good transfer.

MAC SAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

Lake Forest is still undefeated. Two seasons in a row without a setback and a record of 18 consecutive victories is quite an athletic feat especially considering the quality of competition in this area. Coach Edgar Lindenmeyer and his Lake Forest football team have our heartiest congratulations on a great season and a great record.

Scouts held opposiion to twelve points in eight games

A powerful line and smart signal calling were the outstanding factors in Lake Forest's 1947 championship. The Scouts did not have as strong a team as a year ago but the league, on the average, was not as strong either. When Walter Jones made good at tackle this year Lake Forest's line was set. The big colored brother of all-conference Amos Jones of last year's team, came through in great style and Lake Forest had another great line. The Lake Forest boys voted "Red" Smith the distinction of most valuable lineman at an end position and picked Lennie Anderson as most valuable back. Anderson quarterbacked Lake Forest three seasons in which they lost only one game. He certainly is deserving of all-state recognition and this column is writing to the Champaign News Gazette to help boost his chances.

Arlington Coach made most of his material

When Arlington finished the season with five victories, a tie, and a defeat they equalled the school record made in 1944 when Arlington lost only to undefeated Libertyville. This year they lost only to undefeated Lake Forest. So Coach Larsen's 1947 eleven and Coach Seidler's 1944 team have identical records. We still say that the 20-20 tie game between Arlington and Crystal Lake in 1944 was the most exciting prep grid contest we have ever seen. Both coaches of 1944 and 1947 had only average material but came up with great records.

Niles end on special Chicago Sun trip

Bill Comstock, one of our leading candidates for all conference end playing for Niles in the Northeast, is a lucky boy. He is one of 84 high school editors chosen by the Chicago Sun to go on a special trip to see the United Nations organization in action at Lake Success, New York. Comstock had a great year at Niles and just finished the football season in time to go on the trip East Saturday.

Mike Rose ranks tops in state in officials' exam

The Illinois High School Association monthly magazine for November lists officials having highest scores in the football exams given this fall. As usual our good friend Mike Rose of North Chicago was among the leaders only this time he was top in the state with a grade of 98%. Stanley LeMoyne of Chicago who does considerable officiating in the Northwest Conference in basketball was another high man with 93%.

Libertyville building '48

Some fans are wondering why Libertyville went on the skids to the tune of 50-0 and 38-6 defeats in their last two games. According to reliable reports Coach Steinhebel at Libertyville has been using mostly under class boys in the last few games hoping to have a better outfit next year to represent the Wildcats in the new North Suburban League.

Basketball games Friday — Pirates lose star guard

The basketball season gets underway this Friday when Barrington is host to Hebron and Palatine plays their Alumni. Any chances that Palatine may have had were dimmed considerably by the fact that Dick Pepper's sprained ankle in the Bensenville football game did not respond to treatment and a recent x-ray shows a broken instep. Pepper was 2nd all-conference last year and was expected to be the best floor guard in the loop this year. Chances are he will be out until the holidays.

Leyden Cards three West Suburban schools in football tilts

Leyden high school will play Downers Grove, York, and Glenbard of the West Suburban League in football next season. Along with contests with Arlington, Niles and Bensenville the Eagles have a fair schedule lined up in spite of the breakup of the Northeast Conference. Athletic Director Sam England announced the above lineup this past week and would like to get two more games to complete an eight game card.

Leyden looked very good in their season finale with Warren and with many good boys returning should be able to make a respectable showing against the tough kind of opposition being scheduled. We hope to give our readers in the very near future the names of schools Arlington and Niles will meet in football next year.

Predictions were closer than usual

The final standings in the Northeast conference in order list Lake Forest, Arlington, Niles, Leyden, Crystal Lake, Warren, Libertyville, Woodstock. Last September we picked the final order as follows: Lake Forest, Niles, Arlington, Leyden, Crystal Lake, Libertyville, Woodstock, Warren. While you read of upsets in football every week end however it is the easiest of all sports to predict, if you can call any of them easy.

Lake Forest beats Niles, 14-0, for clear title

by MARC TWINNEY

Lake Forest Scouts won an undisputed Northeast conference football title Friday afternoon when they administered a 14-0 beating to the Niles Trojans.

After several fumbles pushing the ball from one side to the other, Charles Scharrer intercepted a Trojan pass on the Lakers' 22 yard line, and, with six man interference, sprinted 78 yards for the first touchdown. Moley converted.

SECOND period saw the Scouts run almost at will as they pushed down the field in twelve plays and four first downs.

AAA host to Elmhurst Wednesday

Arlington Athletic Association will play host next week, Wednesday night, in another gridiron contest on the local field when Elmhurst Travelers come to town.

Local town team has about a fifty-fifty record for the season, gaining wins each time a complete roster of players is available for competition.

NEXT Wednesday night local fans will have another opportunity to watch former Arlington high school gridders in action at the 8 p. m. kickoff.

This will be the last game of the year for the local team. The team will be out in full strength for the first time since the opening game this season. Brumm, Kouros, Douglas, Erber, Junhens, Hecht and Holtz, all who have been on the injured list for the past three weeks, will be ready to go. The boys will be out to avenge a 37-0 defeat received from Elmhurst earlier this season.

Non-league basketball starts play Friday

The Northwest conference hardly has a breathing spell following football before they are ready to open their league basketball schedule. The card calls for the first conference games in a 14 game schedule next week, Friday, November 21, with Bensenville at Palatine, Ela at Northbrook, Barrington at Antioch, and Wauconda at Grant. The second round comes the night before Thanksgiving Wednesday, November 26. Bensenville varies from this schedule playing a home game with Ela a night earlier on Tuesday.

Barrington gets in two non-league games before opening at Antioch. Friday the Bronchos are host to Hebron and on Saturday they travel to West Chicago. Palatine plays their recent Alumni Friday.

NEXT TUESDAY, November 18 Ela has a home game with Grayslake, whom several other league schools have on their schedules. Wauconda takes on a tough opponent at Woodstock and Antioch treks to Warren for other Tuesday tilts.

Northbrook and Grant are the only Northwest teams playing no preliminary contests. Northbrook's schedule, in fact, is limited to the 14 conference games except for a holiday tourney at Wauconda. Palatine and Barrington have the longest schedules, each playing the state limit of 20 contests. Palatine is also sponsoring a holiday tourney December 26-27 with Arlington, Bensenville, and Leyden as guests. Wauconda has a tourney during the Christmas vacation with Antioch, Northbrook and McHenry entered.

The Northeast Conference does not open league play until Friday, December 5, and like the Northwest, will this season, play a complete home and home schedule of 14 loop games.

Northbrook sports club to hold 'open house'

The Northbrook Sports Club will hold an "open house" meeting at the Northbrook high school gymnasium Monday, November 17 at 8 p.m. All residents of Northbrook and surrounding communities are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge at this meeting.

The program for the evening promises to be extremely interesting one. The featured speaker will be Livingston Osborne, Director of the Department of Conservation, State of Illinois. Mr. Osborne is the state's leading authority on conservation and wild life. From all reports, his talks reflect years of experience with wild life in the middle west. In addition, color movies on hunting, fishing and wild life will be shown.

The Northbrook Sports Club has shown a remarkable growth in the few months of its existance. From a few men, who had mutual interest in sports, it has grown to a membership of nearly two hundred. These members are drawn from not only the north and northwest suburbs, but from the northern section of Chicago. This open meeting provides an opportunity for men, women and high school students to learn more about the phenomenal growth of this organization.

Jayvees beat Libertyville

Arlington Heights junior varsity football team closed their schedule for the year with a 6-0 victory at Libertyville last week, Thursday. Final record for the locals is two won, three lost, and one tie.

Ragland's line plunge for five yards and pay dirt was the play which brought the victory. Muller's attempted conversion hit one of the uprights.

The victory brought revenge for the junior Cards after a previous 13-0 defeat administered by the Lake county squad.

Stags to open this Thursday at Stadium

The Stags, Chicago's entry in the BBAA, open defense of their western division championship against St. Louis next Thursday at the Stadium. Chicago finished in a deadlock with the Bombers, after 60 league games last season, and needed a playoff victory to cop the title.

The other half of the twin bill puts the Port Wayne Zoellners against the Toledo Jeeps. The Zollners also sport two Illinois 'Whiz Kids' in the presence of Ken Menke and Jack Smiley. Toledo is led by 'Huge' Harry Boycoff, former All-American from St. John's.

Thursday will mark the first of 24 double headers, pro-version, at the Stadium.

Bisons place seven, Grant six, Palatine two on mythical squad

Bensenville's Bisons and Grant's Bulldogs dominated the Northwest Conference all star selections this season just as they did the league grid campaign in which they tied for the championship. Coach Tom Meneguin's team placed seven boys on the honor squad and six had first team ranking or tied for first team positions. Coach Dan Werhan's boys did nearly as well with five boys named and four on the first eleven. Palatine, Northbrook and Barrington each placed three boys while Antioch got one. Two Palatine boys, Pepper and Stephan, tied for first team backfield positions.

Bob Thollander and Bob Pittman of Bensenville were the only unanimous selections. Fred Haiman and Roy Rosing of Grant and John Gaspar of Bensenville got all first team votes except one.

THE MOST outstanding performer in the league was Bob Thollander the Bisons ace at fullback who broke the league scoring record with 85 points. He was the hardest running back that this writer has seen in the Northwest Conference the past 10 seasons. He did everything well and was a great competitor.

Charles Kranz of Barrington got the runnerup spot at fullback on the basis of his 7.4 yard average in 41 attempts in the last two games in which Barrington whipped Northbrook and Antioch by top heavy scores. Kranz was out of the earlier games with injuries and Barrington did little without him.

FRED HAIMAN, all-league back of last year, is a repeater. Little Fred was an elusive ball carrier and came through in the pinch. Dick Kirkpatrick of Grant, a great defensive back who intercepted 16 passes in five games, and Harold Stephan of Palatine, an outstanding breakaway running back, tied for the other first team backfield spot. Roger Schultz, mainstay of the Northbrook backfield was next in line though far behind in the polling of votes.

Dick Pepper of Palatine and William Robertson of Bensenville tied for first team quarterback. Both were good field generals. Pepper was the better blocker and tackler. Robertson was the better ball carrier and passer. He averaged 50% completions for the season in his passing which was one of the main cogs in the Bison offense. Pepper was Palatine's most valuable all round performer.

THERE WAS no outstanding center in the league. Best of the lot were Bob Vuglar of Bensenville and Larry Ross of Palatine, both juniors. Vuglar had more speed and was better on defense. Ross was Palatine's best defensive lineman.

Two of the finest guards the league has ever produced were John Gaspar of Bensenville and Roy Rosing of Grant who tied in the voting. Rosing was voted by his team mates Grant's best lineman of the year. Gasper is the best guard to play for Bensenville in years if not all time. Far behind but still rating as very good boys were Robert Decker of Barrington and Robert Wiest of Northbrook.

BOB PITTMAN of Bensenville was the best tackle in the circuit. He was a vicious tackler and blocker and very fast on his feet for his 220 pounds. Bob Schildgen, Northbrook's lanky tackle, got the other first team spot. He was a second team selection last year.

Don Walker who missed the last two games with an injury was a tower of strength in the Grant line weighing 230 pounds and being quick and [illegible] covering his position. Walter Kuligowski was the best player at Antioch where he was a standout on a weak team.

Richard Steffensen of Bensenville and William Koch of Grant were the standout ends in the league. They could catch passes were good blockers and stopped everything aimed at their ends of the line. Charles Saveley of Barrington and Ralph Baldwin of Baldwin of Bensenville were not far behind in ability as wingmen.

Reserved season ducats solve seat shortage at Crystal Lake

Crystal Lake athletic department has solved its problems of not having enough seats for its basketball fans by instigating reserved season tickets. These will be the only guarantees for fans to obtain seats for the various Northeast conference and other contests.

An insight into the solution offered at Waukegan high school for the same reason are also season tickets. However, they have reserved various sections for grade school, high school, and adults reserved season tickets. On the latter type, just 76 season books still remain for sale.

Palatine attempted the same system for its fans last year, but local basketball crowd was not responsive enough to make it worth while, and the system will not be attempted this season.

Libertyville town team set for 1947-48 season

Libertyville's American Legion basketball team, starting its third campaign, is gradually rounding into shape for its season's opener tentatively set for November 22.

Jim Ladd, Russ Morris, Bill Grimes, Ole Olsen, and the Huffman brothers will again represent the Libertyville team and it is expected that Jimmie Drake, speedy cager just released from the Army, will be on the squad.

Kankakee has already been booked by the management. The tentative opening game will probably be at New Holstein, Wis., against the 1946 state champs.

MACS ★ SAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

Lake Forest is still undefeated. Two seasons in a row without a setback and a record of 18 consecutive victories is quite an athletic feat especially considering the quality of competition in this area. Coach Edgar Lindenmeyer and his Lake Forest football team have our heartiest congratulations on a great season and a great record.

Scouts held opposiion to twelve points in eight games

A powerful line and smart signal calling were the outstanding factors in Lake Forest's 1947 championship. The Scouts did not have as strong a team as a year ago but the league, on the average, was not as strong either. When Walter Jones made good at tackle this year Lake Forest's line was set. The big colored brother of all-conference Amos Jones of last year's team, came through in great style and Lake Forest had another great line. The Lake Forest boys voted "Red" Smith the distinction of most valuable lineman at an end position and picked Lennie Anderson as most valuable back. Anderson quarterbacked Lake Forest three seasons in which they lost only one game. He certainly is deserving of all-state recognition and this column is writing to the Champaign News Gazette to help boost his chances.

Arlington Coach made most of his material

When Arlington finished the season with five victories, a tie, and a defeat they equalled the school record made in 1944 when Arlington lost only to undefeated Libertyville. This year they lost only to undefeated Lake Forest. So Coach Larsen's 1947 eleven and Coach Seidler's 1944 team have identical records. We still say that the 20-20 tie game between Arlington and Crystal Lake in 1944 was the most exciting prep grid contest we have ever seen. Both coaches of 1944 and 1947 had only average material but came up with great records.

Niles end on special Chicago Sun trip

Bill Comstock, one of our leading candidates for all conference end playing for Niles in the Northeast, is a lucky boy. He is one of 84 high school editors chosen by the Chicago Sun to go on a special trip to see the United Nations organization in action at Lake Success, New York. Comstock had a great year at Niles and just finished the football season in time to go on the trip East Saturday.

Mike Rose ranks tops in state in officials' exam

The Illinois High School Association monthly magazine for November lists officials having highest scores in the football exams given this fall. As usual our good friend Mike Rose of North Chicago was among the leaders only this time he was top in the state with a grade of 98%. Stanley LeMoyne of Chicago who does considerable officiating in the Northwest Conference in basketball was another high man with 93%.

Libertyville building '48

Some fans are wondering why Libertyville went on the skids to the tune of 50-0 and 38-6 defeats in their last two games. According to reliable reports Coach Steinhebel at Libertyville has been using mostly under class boys in the last few games hoping to have a better outfit next year to represent the Wildcats in the new North Suburban League.

Basketball games Friday — Pirates lose star guard

The basketball season gets underway this Friday when Barrington is host to Hebron and Palatine plays their Alumni. Any chances that Palatine may have had were dimmed considerably by the fact that Dick Pepper's sprained ankle in the Bensenville football game did not respond to treatment and a recent x-ray shows a broken instep. Pepper was 2nd all-conference last year and was expected to be the best floor guard in the loop this year. Chances are he will be out until the holidays.

Leyden Cards three West Suburban schools in football tilts

Leyden high school will play Downers Grove, York, and Glenbard of the West Suburban League in football next season. Along with contests with Arlington, Niles and Bensenville the Eagles have a fair schedule lined up in spite of the breakup of the Northeast Conference. Athletic Director Sam England announced the above lineup this past week and would like to get two more games to complete an eight game card.

Leyden looked very good in their season finale with Warren and with many good boys returning should be able to make a respectable showing against the tough kind of opposition being scheduled. We hope to give our readers in the very near future the names of schools Arlington and Niles will meet in football next year.

Predictions were closer than usual

The final standings in the Northeast conference in order list Lake Forest, Arlington, Niles, Leyden, Crystal Lake, Warren, Libertyville, Woodstock. Last September we picked the final order as follows: Lake Forest, Niles, Arlington, Leyden, Crystal Lake, Libertyville, Woodstock, Warren. While you read of upsets in football every week end however it is the easiest of all sports to predict, if you can call any of them easy.

Lake Forest beats Niles, 14-0, for clear title

by MARC TWINNEY

Lake Forest Scouts won an undisputed Northeast conference football title Friday afternoon when they administered a 14-0 beating to the Niles Trojans.

After several fumbles pushing the ball from one side to the other, Charles Scharrer intercepted a Trojan pass on the Lakers' 22 yard line, and, with six man interference, sprinted 78 yards for the first touchdown. Moley converted.

SECOND period saw the Scouts run almost at will as they pushed down the field in twelve plays and four first downs.

AAA host to Elmhurst Wednesday

Arlington Athletic Association will play host next week, Wednesday night, in another gridiron contest on the local field when Elmhurst Travelers come to town.

Local town team has about a fifty-fifty record for the season, gaining wins each time a complete roster of players is available for competition.

NEXT Wednesday night local fans will have another opportunity to watch former Arlington high school gridders in action at the 8 p. m. kickoff.

This will be the last game of the year for the local team. The team will be out in full strength for the first time since the opening game this season. Brumm, Kouros, Douglas, Erber, Junhens, Hecht and Holtz, all who have been on the injured list for the past three weeks, will be ready to go. The boys will be out to avenge a 37-0 defeat received from Elmhurst earlier this season.

Non-league basketball starts play Friday

The Northwest conference hardly has a breathing spell following football before they are ready to open their league basketball schedule. The card calls for the first conference games in a 14 game schedule next week, Friday, November 21, with Bensenville at Palatine, Ela at Northbrook, Barrington at Antioch, and Wauconda at Grant. The second round comes the night before Thanksgiving Wednesday, November 26. Bensenville varies from this schedule playing a home game with Ela a night earlier on Tuesday.

Barrington gets in two non-league games before opening at Antioch. Friday the Bronchos are host to Hebron and on Saturday they travel to West Chicago. Palatine plays their recent Alumni Friday.

NEXT TUESDAY, November 18 Ela has a home game with Grayslake, whom several other league schools have on their schedules. Wauconda takes on a tough opponent at Woodstock and Antioch treks to Warren for other Tuesday tilts.

Northbrook and Grant are the only Northwest teams playing no preliminary contests. Northbrook's schedule, in fact, is limited to the 14 conference games except for a holiday tourney at Wauconda. Palatine and Barrington have the longest schedules, each playing the state limit of 20 contests. Palatine is also sponsoring a holiday tourney December 26-27 with Arlington, Bensenville, and Leyden as guests. Wauconda has a tourney during the Christmas vacation with Antioch, Northbrook and McHenry entered.

The Northeast Conference does not open league play until Friday, December 5, and like the Northwest, will this season, play a complete home and home schedule of 14 loop games.

Northbrook sports club to hold 'open house'

The Northbrook Sports Club will hold an "open house" meeting at the Northbrook high school gymnasium Monday, November 17 at 8 p.m. All residents of Northbrook and surrounding communities are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge at this meeting.

The program for the evening promises to be extremely interesting one. The featured speaker will be Livingston Osborne, Director of the Department of Conservation, State of Illinois. Mr. Osborne is the state's leading authority on conservation and wild life. From all reports, his talks reflect years of experience with wild life in the middle west. In addition, color movies on hunting, fishing and wild life will be shown.

The Northbrook Sports Club has shown a remarkable growth in the few months of its existance. From a few men, who had mutual interest in sports, it has grown to a membership of nearly two hundred. These members are drawn from not only the north and northwest suburbs, but from the northern section of Chicago. This open meeting provides an opportunity for men, women and high school students to learn more about the phenomenal growth of this organization.

Jayvees beat Libertyville

Arlington Heights junior varsity football team closed their schedule for the year with a 6-0 victory at Libertyville last week, Thursday. Final record for the locals is two won, three lost, and one tie.

Ragland's line plunge for five yards and pay dirt was the play which brought the victory. Muller's attempted conversion hit one of the uprights.

The victory brought revenge for the junior Cards after a previous 13-0 defeat administered by the Lake county squad.

Stags to open this Thursday at Stadium

The Stags, Chicago's entry in the BBAA, open defense of their western division championship against St. Louis next Thursday at the Stadium. Chicago finished in a deadlock with the Bombers, after 60 league games last season, and needed a playoff victory to cop the title.

The other half of the twin bill puts the Port Wayne Zollners against the Toledo Jeeps. The Zollners also sport two Illinois 'Whiz Kids' in the presence of Ken Menke and Jack Smiley. Toledo is led by 'Huge' Harry Boycoff, former All-American from St. John's.

Thursday will mark the first of 24 double headers, pro-version, at the Stadium.

Bisons place seven, Grant six, Palatine two on mythical squad

Bensenville's Bisons and Grant's Bulldogs dominated the Northwest Conference all star selections this season just as they did the league grid campaign in which they tied for the championship. Coach Tom Meneguin's team placed seven boys on the honor squad and six had first team ranking or tied for first team positions. Coach Dan Werhan's boys did nearly as well with five boys named and four on the first eleven. Palatine, Northbrook and Barrington each placed three boys while Antioch got one. Two Palatine boys, Pepper and Stephan, tied for first team backfield positions.

Bob Thollander and Bob Pittman of Bensenville were the only unanimous selections. Fred Haiman and Roy Rosing of Grant and John Gaspar of Bensenville got all first team votes except one.

THE MOST outstanding performer in the league was Bob Thollander the Bisons ace at fullback who broke the league scoring record with 85 points. He was the hardest running back that this writer has seen in the Northwest Conference the past 10 seasons. He did everything well and was a great competitor.

Charles Kranz of Barrington got the runnerup spot at fullback on the basis of his 7.4 yard average in 41 attempts in the last two games in which Barrington whipped Northbrook and Antioch by top heavy scores. Kranz was out of the earlier games with injuries and Barrington did little without him.

FRED HAIMAN, all-league back of last year, is a repeater. Little Fred was an elusive ball carrier and came through in the pinch. Dick Kirkpatrick of Grant, a great defensive back who intercepted 16 passes in five games, and Harold Stephan of Palatine, an outstanding breakaway running back, tied for the other first team backfield spot. Roger Schultz, mainstay of the Northbrook backfield was next in line though far behind in the polling of votes.

Dick Pepper of Palatine and William Robertson of Bensenville tied for first team quarterback. Both were good field generals. Pepper was the better blocker and tackler. Robertson was the better ball carrier and passer. He averaged 50% completions for the season in his passing which was one of the main cogs in the Bison offense. Pepper was Palatine's most valuable all round performer.

THERE WAS no outstanding center in the league. Best of the lot were Bob Vuglar of Bensenville and Larry Ross of Palatine, both juniors. Vuglar had more speed and was better on defense. Ross was Palatine's best defensive lineman.

Two of the finest guards the league has ever produced were John Gaspar of Bensenville and Roy Rosing of Grant who tied in the voting. Rosing was voted by his team mates Grant's best lineman of the year. Gasper is the best guard to play for Bensenville in years if not all time. Far behind but still rating as very good boys were Robert Decker of Barrington and Robert Wiest of Northbrook.

BOB PITTMAN of Bensenville was the best tackle in the circuit. He was a vicious tackler and blocker and very fast on his feet for his 220 pounds. Bob Schildgen, Northbrook's lanky tackle, got the other first team spot. He was a second team selection last year.

Don Walker who missed the last two games with an injury was a tower of strength in the Grant line weighing 230 pounds and being quick and [illegible] covering his position. Walter Kuligowski was the best player at Antioch where he was a standout on a weak team.

Richard Steffensen of Bensenville and William Koch of Grant were the standout ends in the league. They could catch passes were good blockers and stopped everything aimed at their ends of the line. Charles Saveley of Barrington and Ralph Baldwin of Baldwin of Bensenville were not far behind in ability as wingmen.

Reserved season ducats solve seat shortage at Crystal Lake

Crystal Lake athletic department has solved its problems of not having enough seats for its basketball fans by instigating reserved season tickets. These will be the only guarantees for fans to obtain seats for the various Northeast conference and other contests.

An insight into the solution offered at Waukegan high school for the same reason are also season tickets. However, they have reserved various sections for grade school, high school, and adults reserved season tickets. On the latter type, just 76 season books still remain for sale.

Palatine attempted the same system for its fans last year, but local basketball crowd was not responsive enough to make it worth while, and the system will not be attempted this season.

Libertyville town team set for 1947-48 season

Libertyville's American Legion basketball team, starting its third campaign, is gradually rounding into shape for its season's opener tentatively set for November 22.

Jim Ladd, Russ Morris, Bill Grimes, Ole Olsen, and the Huffman brothers will again represent the Libertyville team and it is expected that Jimmie Drake, speedy cager just released from the Army, will be on the squad.

Kankakee has already been booked by the management. The tentative opening game will probably be at New Holstein, Wis., against the 1946 state champs.

much in the way of varsity material so it looks like Antioch is destined to finish in the lower regions this year in both basketball and football.

PALATINE has not finished lower than third in the Northwest conference in the last 10 years but they will have to get a lot of breaks to finish that high this season. Coach Stutzman just does not have the material to put a contender in the field.

Returning lettermen are Fred Haemker, 5' 11" forward, and Dick Steinbrinck, 5' 11" forward. These two boys changed off much of the season at one position. Marv Zoellick, Harry Gustafson, and Dick Kolze are gone from last year's varsity.

Dick Pepper, second all-conference guard and expected to be one of the best in the league, has not joined the squad due to a football injury. Pepper suffered a foot injury early in the Bensenville game of three weeks ago but played much of the game anyway. The foot did not respond to treatment and x-rays last week end disclosed a broken instep. Pepper will not see action until the Christmas holiday tournament at the earliest.

THE PALATINE squad has good average height of about five eleven but there is no man standing much over six feet. Frank Orzolek is probably the best of those promoted from the frosh-sophs. Boobyer, Hestrup, and Kincaid remain from last year's varsity squad. McDonald, Meyer, Newport, and Orzolek have moved up from the frosh-sophs. Klein, a soph transfer from Chicago, is on the varsity squad due to shortage of material.

Friday night the Pirates meet the alumni of the past two years Intra squad games between freshmen and sophomores and between 7th and 8th graders will precede the main event. Friday, November 21, the Pirates open against Bensenville, the team rated tops in the Northwest conference. M. M. Plate will again handle frosh-soph basketball.

Arlington gains 19-0 victory over Woodstock in final

Cardinals tie school record

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Six wins one tie, and a loss. Yes, that's the record which the Arlington Cardinal grid squad piled up in the 1947 season. It was under the capable leadership of head coach C. R. Larsen and line coach W. J. Creamer that the Red Birds managed to pull through a tough schedule and tie the school record. The Cards produced upset number one in the Conference with that 13-6 win over highly touted Niles, which mathematically put them in second place in the standings behind Lake Forest, who whipped the Trojans 14-0, Friday afternoon.

Arlington had two outstanding linesmen this year in Phil Roche and Walter Beckman, both of whom will undoubtedly be picked on the All-Conference eleven.

The Cards climaxed this great season on a cold and windy field last Friday evening with a win over the Woodstock Blue Streaks. "Dad's Day" did not turn out to its best intention due largely to the cold weather, but the small crowd that watched the affair saw August Krause reel off two touchdown runs of 68 and 19 yards, and Bill Robinson go for another score on a 32-yard jaunt, as the locals rolled over Woodstock 19-0 in the final Northeast conference football game for both schools.

ARLINGTON reeled off its first touchdown after carrying the ball on just three plays. After finding the Cards' forward-wall too tough to penetrate, Grill punted from the 16 to his own 38, and Fred Bista moved it in two plays down to the 32. On third down Robinson pulled out from the quarter back spot, and sped around right end for the score. Bork's try for the conversion was wide, and Heights led by a 6-0 margin.

The locals had a good chance to increase their lead early in the second phase when they had a second down on the Streaks' 9 yard line. However, their offense bogged down, and Woodstock took over. Three-quarters of the way through this period, the Blue Streaks downed a bad Arlington punt on the Cards' 23. This was Woodstock's biggest scoring threat of the contest, and largely through the running efforts of Arnie Miller the visitors banged their way to the 9. But two passes were incomplete, and the locals took over, stalling out the remaining seconds, and holding on to a 6-0 half time lead.

ARLINGTON unleashed its scoring punch in the third quarter as August Krause, speedy sophomore fullback, accounted for two touchdowns. His first score came on the eighth play of the quareer. Chuck Fischer had just returned Nelson's quick-kick back five yards to the locals 32. Krause took the hand-off, found a big hole in the right side of the line and behind excellent down-field blocking sped 68 yards for the marker. On this run Roche laid one of the best blocks of the season on a would-be Blue Streak tackler who might have pulled Augie down from behind.

Krause's second and final tally came after Tom Wisersky had fallen on Polizzi's fumble on the Blue Streak's 41. Fischer, Krause and Boroughf moved the locals in three plays down to the 19. On third down, Krause buzzed around left end into the endzone for a touchdown. Bork sent the conversion through the uprights and increased the margin to 19-0.

ALTHOUGH no more scoring was done in the game, the Cards did cross the goal in the last period. Paul Ransdell skirted 23 yards around left end on a tricky triple reverse. However, this was nullified by a holding penalty. In the closing minutes of the game Ken Bork tried a field goal from the 28, but the kick was way short. The contest ended shortly with the Cards in charge after recovering a Woodstock misplay on the 13 to keep on the top end of a 19-0 count.

Globe Trotters to play at Elgin Nov. 25

There will be a show, an exhibition and a fight all rolled up into a basketball game when the Original Harlem Globe Trotters play the Elgin All-Stars in the Junior Chamber of Commerce benefit November 25 at the High school gym.

The Globe Trotters, the first of several teams with the same name, are well known for their type of basketball which includes a dash of showmanship, good ball handling and accurate shooting. In the 1946-47 season they won 154 of their games and lost three. They have an all-time record of 2886 wins and 225 losses.

All-Star basketball classic at Stadium

Box office sales now being made at Bond's 65 W. Madison St., Chicago for basketball's biggest show—the Eighth Annual Herald-American All-Star Classic, November 28 at the Chicago Stadium—are piling up fast and sports fans who plan on enjoying this great spectacle again this year should stop by early to get their tickets. Many who wait until the last minute will be disappointed. Plenty of choice seats at $3.00 and $1.50 are still available, but they're going fast.

Mail order sales are also at a pace which indicates that for the fourth straight year the All-Star event will be a complete sell-out. Address Herald-American Ticket Manager, 326 W. Madison St., Chicago 6, enclosing check or money order, and specifying number and denomination of tickets desired.

As for the All-Star personnel, Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg of Northwestern University, the perennial coach of the All-Star squads, and Harold (Bud) Foster of the University of Wisconsin who has been nominated to assist Dutch on the bench this year, have a real tough job in whittling down the star-studded aggregation to the required limits of the All-Star team. Within a few days their selections will be published and fans who know their basketball will appreciate that the Indianapolis Kautskys, great champions that they are, will be in for a hot night of battling.

Lake Forest —

Haake finally hit the goal line on a 4 yard run around end, Scharrer doing some nice blocking. Moley again converted.

Lake Forest then recovered their own kickoff on the Skokie 30 yard line. After 3 incomplete passes, Moley attempted a field goal, but failed.

REMAINDER of the game was continuous exchange of punts, with the wind interfering in most of the plays. The game was hard fought, but clean.

Sayoc, Whalen and Spruth performed well as Lake Forest substitutes as the winners' line outplayed Niles' forward wall. Absence of Ed Soergel hurt the Niles chances, but the muddy field, 30 degree temperature and intermittent snows were more damaging. Lake Forest blocking won the game.

Golf Thought For Today

To get your mind off other matters don't go away. Apply yourself diligently to solving the golf swing from putt to drive. There is a right way to hit a golf ball. Study this winter, visualize your swing while relaxing in an easy chair. Retire within yourself to a delicious diligent indolence.

What is a connected swing?

What is meant by Maintain the two triangles of the golf swing?

Who is known as the Big Slap and why?

What are the four most important things to remember in making the golf swing?

NW basketball —

much in the way of varsity material so it looks like Antioch is destined to finish in the lower regions this year in both basketball and football.

PALATINE has not finished lower than third in the Northwest conference in the last 10 years but they will have to get a lot of breaks to finish that high this season. Coach Stutzman just does not have the material to put a contender in the field.

Returning lettermen are Fred Haemker, 5' 11" forward, and Dick Steinbrinck, 5' 11" forward. These two boys changed off much of the season at one position. Marv Zoellick, Harry Gustafson, and Dick Kolze are gone from last year's varsity.

Dick Pepper, second all-conference guard and expected to be one of the best in the league, has not joined the squad due to a football injury. Pepper suffered a foot injury early in the Bensenville game of three weeks ago but played much of the game anyway. The foot did not respond to treatment and x-rays last week end disclosed a broken instep. Pepper will not see action until the Christmas holiday tournament at the earliest.

THE PALATINE squad has good average height of about five eleven but there is no man standing much over six feet. Frank Orzolek is probably the best of those promoted from the frosh-sophs. Boobyer, Hestrup, and Kincaid remain from last year's varsity squad. McDonald, Meyer, Newport, and Orzolek have moved up from the frosh-sophs. Klein, a soph transfer from Chicago, is on the varsity squad due to shortage of material.

Friday night the Pirates meet the alumni of the past two years Intra squad games between freshmen and sophomores and between 7th and 8th graders will precede the main event. Friday, November 21, the Pirates open against Bensenville, the team rated tops in the Northwest conference. M. M. Plate will again handle frosh-soph basketball.

Arlington gains 19-0 victory over Woodstock in final

Cardinals tie school record

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Six wins one tie, and a loss. Yes, that's the record which the Arlington Cardinal grid squad piled up in the 1947 season. It was under the capable leadership of head coach C. R. Larsen and line coach W. J. Creamer that the Red Birds managed to pull through a tough schedule and tie the school record. The Cards produced upset number one in the Conference with that 13-6 win over highly touted Niles, which mathematically put them in second place in the standings behind Lake Forest, who whipped the Trojans 14-0, Friday afternoon.

Arlington had two outstanding linesmen this year in Phil Roche and Walter Beckman, both of whom will undoubtedly be picked on the All-Conference eleven.

The Cards climaxed this great season on a cold and windy field last Friday evening with a win over the Woodstock Blue Streaks. "Dad's Day" did not turn out to its best intention due largely to the cold weather, but the small crowd that watched the affair saw August Krause reel off two touchdown runs of 68 and 19 yards, and Bill Robinson go for another score on a 32-yard jaunt, as the locals rolled over Woodstock 19-0 in the final Northeast conference football game for both schools.

ARLINGTON reeled off its first touchdown after carrying the ball on just three plays. After finding the Cards' forward-wall too tough to penetrate, Grill punted from the 16 to his own 38, and Fred Bista moved it in two plays down to the 32. On third down Robinson pulled out from the quarter back spot, and sped around right end for the score. Bork's try for the conversion was wide, and Heights led by a 6-0 margin.

The locals had a good chance to increase their lead early in the second phase when they had a second down on the Streaks' 9 yard line. However, their offense bogged down, and Woodstock took over. Three-quarters of the way through this period, the Blue Streaks downed a bad Arlington punt on the Cards' 23. This was Woodstock's biggest scoring threat of the contest, and largely through the running efforts of Arnie Miller the visitors banged their way to the 9. But two passes were incomplete, and the locals took over, stalling out the remaining seconds, and holding on to a 6-0 half time lead.

ARLINGTON unleashed its scoring punch in the third quarter as August Krause, speedy sophomore fullback, accounted for two touchdowns. His first score came on the eighth play of the quareer. Chuck Fischer had just returned Nelson's quick-kick back five yards to the locals 32. Krause took the hand-off, found a big hole in the right side of the line and behind excellent down-field blocking sped 68 yards for the marker. On this run Roche laid one of the best blocks of the season on a would-be Blue Streak tackler who might have pulled Augie down from behind.

Krause's second and final tally came after Tom Wisersky had fallen on Polizzi's fumble on the Blue Streak's 41. Fischer, Krause and Boroughf moved the locals in three plays down to the 19. On third down, Krause buzzed around left end into the endzone for a touchdown. Bork sent the conversion through the uprights and increased the margin to 19-0.

ALTHOUGH no more scoring was done in the game, the Cards did cross the goal in the last period. Paul Ransdell skirted 23 yards around left end on a tricky triple reverse. However, this was nullified by a holding penalty. In the closing minutes of the game Ken Bork tried a field goal from the 28, but the kick was way short. The contest ended shortly with the Cards in charge after recovering a Woodstock misplay on the 13 to keep on the top end of a 19-0 count.

Globe Trotters to play at Elgin Nov. 25

There will be a show, an exhibition and a fight all rolled up into a basketball game when the Original Harlem Globe Trotters play the Elgin All-Stars in the Junior Chamber of Commerce benefit November 25 at the High school gym.

The Globe Trotters, the first of several teams with the same name, are well known for their type of basketball which includes a dash of showmanship, good ball handling and accurate shooting. In the 1946-47 season they won 154 of their games and lost three. They have an all-time record of 2886 wins and 225 losses.

All-Star basketball classic at Stadium

Box office sales now being made at Bond's 65 W. Madison St., Chicago for basketball's biggest show—the Eighth Annual Herald-American All-Star Classic, November 28 at the Chicago Stadium—are piling up fast and sports fans who plan on enjoying this great spectacle again this year should stop by early to get their tickets. Many who wait until the last minute will be disappointed. Plenty of choice seats at $3.00 and $1.50 are still available, but they're going fast.

Mail order sales are also at a pace which indicates that for the fourth straight year the All-Star event will be a complete sell-out. Address Herald-American Ticket Manager, 326 W. Madison St., Chicago 6, enclosing check or money order, and specifying number and denomination of tickets desired.

As for the All-Star personnel, Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg of Northwestern University, the perennial coach of the All-Star squads, and Harold (Bud) Foster of the University of Wisconsin who has been nominated to assist Dutch on the bench this year, have a real tough job in whittling down the star-studded aggregation to the required limits of the All-Star team. Within a few days their selections will be published and fans who know their basketball will appreciate that the Indianapolis Kautskys, great champions that they are, will be in for a hot night of battling.

Haake finally hit the goal line on a 4 yard run around end, Scharrer doing some nice blocking. Moley again converted.

Lake Forest then recovered their own kickoff on the Skokie 30 yard line. After 3 incomplete passes, Moley attempted a field goal, but failed.

REMAINDER of the game was continuous exchange of punts, with the wind interfering in most of the plays. The game was hard fought, but clean.

Sayoc, Whalen and Spruth performed well as Lake Forest substitutes as the winners' line outplayed Niles' forward wall. Absence of Ed Soergel hurt the Niles chances, but the muddy field, 30 degree temperature and intermittent snows were more damaging. Lake Forest blocking won the game.

Stassen heads list of 'Men of the Hour' at Highland Park

Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota will lead off the "Men of The Hour" series of lectures by nationally distinguished speakers scheduled in Highland Park, when he appears on the platform at the Highland Park High school auditorium the night of Friday, November 21.

Following Gov. Stassen, appearances by the following famous individuals are scheduled tentatively throughout the winter:

In the future

They are still making new things out of plastics: here comes a new plastic curler which bends with the contour of the head and allows milady a good night's sleep with her hair "up"—you can keep your live bait alive longer by putting the minnow in a plastic case perforated in such a way that the water passes through—at least four more companies are getting out that plastic that the youngsters use for blowing bubbles . . . Through electronics they are now able to locate leaks in pipelines, valves and tanks; while General Electric announces an improved version of the "electric eye" which can see up to 1,000 feet . . . Latest kitchen gadget is a pair of stainless steel plyers for gripping hot pans and other utensils . . . A new sun lamp folds under the bed and is equipped with a built-in automatic timer . . . Not alone the motor car companies but the motor cycle manufacturers are introducing new models now complete with all types of accessories.

Questions on G. I. bill

I was given a dishonorable discharge from the Army. Am I eligible for terminal leave pay.

No—a person discharged under other than honorable conditions forfeits all unused accrued leave.

Question: My son got a terminal leave bond, but before he could cash it, he was killed in an accident. Can I get it cashed?

Answer: Yes. Payment will be made to certain survivors upon application. You may hold the bond until its maturity date at 2½% interest if you desire.

Question: I am a veteran with arrested pulmonary tuberculosis and I'd like to know if I can get any compensation from the Veterans Administration.

Answer: Yes—The VA can make full compensation payments to veterans who have been discharged from its hospitals with arrested tuberculosis up to two years after date of discharge if necessary.

Question: I would like to study abroad on a student exchange basis. Can this be arranged?

Answer: Yes. Arrangements to study abroad on a student exchange basis must be made through the Division of International Exchange of Persons, Department of State.

Question: What are the minimum and maximum amounts of government insurance I can take out. I'm a World War II veteran.

Answer: The minimum for National Service Life Insurance is $1,000 and you can get more in multiples of $500 up to $10,000.

Stassen heads list of 'Men of the Hour' at Highland Park

Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota will lead off the "Men of The Hour" series of lectures by nationally distinguished speakers scheduled in Highland Park, when he appears on the platform at the Highland Park High school auditorium the night of Friday, November 21.

Following Gov. Stassen, appearances by the following famous individuals are scheduled tentatively throughout the winter:

In the future

They are still making new things out of plastics: here comes a new plastic curler which bends with the contour of the head and allows milady a good night's sleep with her hair "up"—you can keep your live bait alive longer by putting the minnow in a plastic case perforated in such a way that the water passes through—at least four more companies are getting out that plastic that the youngsters use for blowing bubbles . . . Through electronics they are now able to locate leaks in pipelines, valves and tanks; while General Electric announces an improved version of the "electric eve" which can see up to 1,000 feet . . . Latest kitchen gadget is a pair of stainless steel plyers for gripping hot pans and other utensils . . . A new sun lamp folds under the bed and is equipped with a built-in automatic timer . . . Not alone the motor car companies but the motor cycle manufacturers are introducing new models now complete with all types of accessories.

Barrington netting $125 per week from parking meters

Barrington's parking meters have netted a total of $1,075.98 in the first four weeks of operation, according to figures released by A. L. Wiedenbeck, village treasurer. That figure includes $60.20 deposited by motorists before the meter ordinance was put into effect.

Exclusive of that $60.20 contributed before enforcement began, the meters have netted an average of $253.94 each week. The first week brought in the highest returns, $260.28; this past week was the lowest, $254.64. Half of the collections is sent to the Park-O-Meter company to defray the cost of the meters.

Collections by weeks:
Oct. 6	$ 60.20
Oct. 13	260.28
Oct. 20	255.40
Oct. 27	254.46
Nov. 3	254.64
Total	$1,075.98

"The main thing people claim for the parking meters," Weidenbeck said, "is that there are parking places to be had." They feel that most of the double parking evil has been cured, he declared, and seem well satisfied withthe efficiency of the meters.

Dedicate three-unit Glenview church

With formal dedication of the new Glenview Community Church and Youth Center Sunday a full week of dedicatory services and celebrations began.

The building now being dedicated represents the first two units of the total church and youth center. The cost of this structure and its three-acre site amounts to $336,761. Towards this amount $314,596 has been contributed. It is hoped that the difference of $22,165 may be forthcoming at dedication time so that these first two units may be debt free. The third unit, extending north and providing much needed additional facilities for educational and youth center work, will be considered as funds are received.

Plan retirement setup at Libertyville for village employees

The Libertyville Village board last week voted to put into operation the state municipal retirement fund program. This was approved at a referendum. It will become operative Jan. 1 and all village employees must participate. Employees will pay 3.5 per cent and the village 8.88 per cent of earnings. The first year's cost to the village will be about $2,888.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George B. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

It is impossible to evaluate the dollar savings to taxpayers which will result from the success of keeping control "back home" over local spending and thus preventing passage of laws compelling local governments to spend more money. More than 100 bills affecting local government spending and local taxes, not counting appropriation bills or H. B. 513 with its 70 companion bills, were affected. Of the 44 of these bills that were enacted, control over spending will be directly in the hands of the taxpayers in some cases at town meetings or through referenda. The taxpayers will control spending under other bills to the extent that they let local officials know what they want and local officials are responsive. Local officials are usually cooperative if taxpayers have facts.

If the electors at the annual town meeting desire, they may vote on issuing bonds to build a community building in any township where the population does not exceed 25,000.

* * *

A law, well-intended, but which nevertheless could work a hardship on taxpayers in park districts of less than half a million population permits a bond issue for playgrounds or athletic fields as living war memorials. These bonds can be issued only if the majority of the people in the park district who vote on the proposition, give their approval.

* * *

Instead of being charged in part to the Educational Fund, money expended to maintain school buildings, to buy and install interior decoration, and to make replacement of fixtures, as well as the payment of insurance premiums, will be paid from the Building Fund. This holds true for the salaries of janitors during the three vacation months, June, July and August.

* * *

The cost of equipping, operating and maintaining school playgrounds, recreation grounds and athletic fields was formerly paid from the Building Fund. But now if the citizens vote for it, bonds can be issued for this purpose.

* * *

To whom do the taxpayers owe the 258.2 billion dollars of U. S. bonds? State and local governments own 2 per cent or 6.2 billion dollars. U. S. government agencies and trust funds hold 12 per cent or 31.3 billion dollars. Corporations own 9 per cent which amounts to 22.9 billion dollars. Individual citizens of the United States own 64.5 billion dollars, or 25 per cent of the total. The participation of insurance companies stands at only 10 per cent or 25.4 billion dollars. Banks are the largest holders of United States bonds to the extent of 37 per cent or 95.9 billion dollars. The mutual saving banks' participation is 5 per cent or 12 billion dollars.

For information concerning your tax problems or those of your community, write the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped and addressed envelope.

State refuses to reroute Algonquin road

Despite long and persistent efforst on the part of Des Plaines and Park Ridge, the State has turned thumbs down on the request to re-route highway 62 around the city, thus taking the heavy burden of through traffic off of Algonquin road. As an alternative, a route turning off at Mannheim and going south to Oakton or even as far as Higgins road has been suggested, and many plausible reasons given for the change, but the State insists that the route remain as it is, claiming that the new number system of highways will take care of conditions.

Their reply, which is agreed to by Springfield, questions the failure of the city to approve a street widening project for Algonquin road, so as to better accommodate traffic, but realizing that widening would only encourage more traffic, citizens and council alike fight shy of such a suggestion.

State refuses to reroute Algonquin road

Despite long and persistent efforst on the part of Des Plaines and Park Ridge, the State has turned thumbs down on the request to re-route highway 62 around the city, thus taking the heavy burden of through traffic off of Algonquin road. As an alternative, a route turning off at Mannheim and going south to Oakton or even as far as Higgins road has been suggested, and many plausible reasons given for the change, but the State insists that the route remain as it is, claiming that the new number system of highways will take care of conditions.

Their reply, which is agreed to by Springfield, questions the failure of the city to approve a street widening project for Algonquin road, so as to better accommodate traffic, but realizing that widening would only encourage more traffic, citizens and council alike fight shy of such a suggestion.

Did you know that the P. L. Z. & W. has a rival? It is a newly organized bus line from Wauconda to Barrington. It seems that some of the good citizens at the northern terminal are slightly peeved and they take turns in operating a free auto bus for any who desire to visit the big city.

Should replace oil lamps in depot

Residents of Palatine invite the officials of the Northwestern railroad to visit the depot at Palatine any afternoon after five o'clock. They believe that not even the one and only dim oil lamp would hide the blush of shame that would result. It seems impossible that such a condition could exist at any depot anywhere.

No matter what good impression a stranger may have of the town, five minutes in that unlighted depot is enough to cause him to say, "never again to that town." Palatine is one of a very few towns that still uses oil lamps in its depot. When there is not even a sufficient number of them it is time that the matter be brought to either the attention of the officials or to the Public Utility Commission.

)ear Jane:

This is National Education Week. Every adult should be nterested, particularly parents f school age children.

The dictionary says: "Educaion is the training of the mental and moral powers, either by system of study and discipline, r by the experience of life."

If we are to think about edcation we must naturally think bout educators—the teachers. Iorace Mann said, "teaching is he noblest work that man or ngels may do." If this be true, ve are immediately concerned vith the qualities that make a ood teacher.

This question came to the fore n the 1930's when the Carnegie 'oundation published its erten-sive study on "The Student and His Knowledge." On a basis of a series of tests and examinations given to some fifty thousand representative college students in Pennsylvania, it was found that schools of education and teachers' colleges and institutions for teacher training were working with indifferent material and turning out an unsatisfactory product. Even in liberal arts colleges, graduates who were planning to become teachers were generally found in the lower half of their classes. The intellectual competence and achievement of prospective teachers was second rate, lower than that of men and women planning to enter any of the other learned professions.

William James held that our faith in education was too naive. We were then too willing to subscribe to the notion that education, any education, was the salvation of democracy. Good teaching, he felt must be anchored in some adequate conception of what constitutes the good life. It is easier for us to accept this conclusion now that we are so frantically concerned about re-educating the Nazis.

Christian Gauss, a member of the Princeton faculty for 41 years, twenty as dean, retired last year. He has written a very enlightening article on the purposes of teaching for the New York Times. It will not hurt any of us to consider some of these purposes for a better understanding in the educating of our own children in our own country.

Dean Gauss says in this article that the function of the good teacher is to transform originally selfish and self-centered human material. From kindergarten through college, the teacher's continuing task is to make his pupil a different and a better man.

The Dean put the question, "What makes a good teacher," to a number of the ablest teachers of his acquaintance. Every one of some twenty-five replies indicated that certain personal traits were indispensable. The majority used the word "personality." Others indicated that they would have used it save the word had become too vague. A few used the word "sincerity." The good teacher must have a command of a field of knowledge. He must be able to transmit effectively the results of this command to his students. The Dean goes on to say that no teacher can do a first class job without meeting both of these requirements. These two imply a third. Except in some highly specialized sciences, no man can have a command of any field of knowledge or transmit its results effectively unless he has acquired something approaching mastery of the English language. "Any lubber can, in Hamlet's phrase, tell a hawk from a handsaw, but the prospective citizen remains a wishful thinker and an easy victim for propagandists until he has learned to make those fine distinctions in which the essence of the truth so often lies. This calls for a fair degree of competence in the use of language."

"By a command of a field we mean that the teacher must have made himself familiar with all its outstanding landmarks and the results of significant research to the point where, without losing himself in a maze of detail, he can add something of his own to an adequate and inclusive presentation.

"It is reassuring to find that there is no lack of interest in this problem among the younger generation of teachers now carrying on in the colleges. One of my younger colleagues, who is himself, one of our outstanding professors of English, conducted a symposium with a number of other successful young teachers. Most of them agreed that the best over-all key word for the good teacher is "personality." The good teacher must make his students want to learn, not think that they ought to or have to.

"The critic who said that education is what you have left when you have forgotten all you ever learned at college was right in this respect, that the transformation of the originally selfish and self-centered human animal into an enlightened and humane person is far more important than any set of facts or conclusions in particular subjects of study.

"The really great school and college teachers are not primarily teachers in biology, English or economics. They are teachers of your men and women. Their success can be measured by the degree to which they correct, humanize and enrich the student's perspective, and give him wider interests, new horizons, enlarged frames of reference, and those sounder habits of working and thinking which make it possible for him to discover the relevant facts in any field, and on his own reach valid conclusions."

There is plenty of food for though in these words of a great educator.

With love, Mary.

Tales of the STREET

BY I. C. HART

SQUAW WINTER

This area was treated to its first real touch of squaw winter over the week end with the temperature down below freezing and a sifting of snow visible in spots. Following this first touch of winter there should come some real Indian summer day later in November.

The cold weather was welcomed by hunters as it was expected to drive the water fowl down from the north country and make hunting along the Illinois river and in other areas of the state more seasonable, as the warm October weather had not brought down many of the northern game birds.

Now if a spell of Indian summer follows the squaw winter the hunters will have had a whack at only only good duck weather during the cold spell, but also some nice weather for upland bird hunting, such as pheasants and quail.

FREEZE AT LAST

The fall of 1947 did pretty well in not having a freeze that killed off all the flowers and vegetable plants until Nov. 7 and 8. Last Friday night's freeze just about finished off things and ran George Butler's katydid prophecy of Nov. 15 as the date of the killing frost to within a week of being right.

Now when George talks about his katydid's forecasting a killing frost it means a kill everything freeze, and when Jerry Acree talks about the same thing it means the first frost that kills anything. Jerry's frosts are supposed to come six weeks after the first katydid chirps and George's are due 90 days after the katydids start their concerts.

LAST BELL

Since the Palatine village board has started to hold its meetings in a schoolroom (the village hall being used for that purpose) it might be well if they observed some of the formalities of their new environment. For instance, how about ringing a last bell as tardy bell at about 8 p. m. on board meeting nights.

We walked into the board room one meeting night promptly at 8 o'clock, scheduled starting time. In the room were the village clerk, the village attorney, one trustee and one spectator.

The last bell that night would have seen the mayor and the rest of the trustees come sliding in like a lot of tardy youngsters after the ringing of the school bell. Maybe the boys ought to open the evening's deliberation with a song, that's the popular opening of a school session, or at least it used to be.

FALL WINDOW

Each fall the Sanitary Market decorates a fall window with products of the field and garden. There are all sorts of various colored ears of corn, autum leaves and other decorations that remind one of the fall season. Then there are stuffed birds of various species, both upland game and water fowl.

After Hallowe'en the window is changed, but for several weeks that window is an interesting and entertaining sight on one of the main business streets of the town.

WHO'S RIGHT?

There seems to be a big difference of opinion as to the future growth of Palatine. Everyone knows that Palatine is growing fast, but where is it going to end?

The park planners say 15,000 or 20,000 population in a few years. President Gray Sanborn of the Consolidated school board received a letter the other day from Robert Kingery of the Chicago Regional Planning Commission that forecast a population for the village of Palatine of 7,000 by 1960 and a township population of 11,000 at that time.

The Regional Planning Commission has the statistics of telephone growth, other public utility growth and population trends over a long period of years on which to base their forecasts. These forecasts for the last many years have been extremely accurate in the Chicago area and the figures of this group have become looked upon as the best authority available for estimates of population and community growth.

A careful study of the situation leads one to believe that Mr. Kingery's figures are more nearly the right ones, unless of course Palatine does as one resident of Barrington said when he heard the two sets of figures, "What's Palatine going to do, annex Barrington to get up to that 15 or 20 thousand population?"

DEPRESSION

Should planners plan on a future depression? That question was raised by the repeated statement of the Palatine park planner at the Community club meeting recently when in painting his picture of future park development he made repeated statements that maybe another depression would come along and the park could get a swimming pool and other improvements built for it.

Are we to plan on future depressions in America in order to get government aid in getting things done by some of the made work stop gaps of the government? Is that what America is coming to—Is that the American way of doing things?

It certainly wasn't the idea of the founding fathers of this country to rely on depressions for community progress. That wasn't their idea of a self reliant independent people's way of doing things.

THE TREE COUNTER

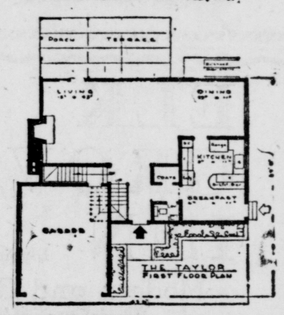
Fred Oswald has seen warmer days than last Saturday on which to count trees, but last week he had a tree counting job to do and there he was at it ail bundled up in several coats, a cap and heavy gloves making a survey and tree count of the property along the south line of the new school and new park property. These lots have been included in the dream plan of the new park.

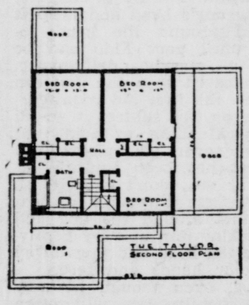
None of the owners have been approached on the subject of whether those lots were for sale or not, yet they are being surveyed and a count made of the trees and shrubs by the park board. A depth of 145 feet from the south line of the school and park property is being talked about.

The owners of that property have use for that property, despite the assertion that this land lacked property and therefor was not of much value. The owners have had that property for years, they use it and the fact that they have had to learn about park plans through the grapevine and not from the park officials has not made them take any more kindly to the idea of having their property confiscated through condemnation proceedings.

They feel that the friendly and neighborly thing to have done would have been for the park board to talk things over with them before ordering their attorney to look up titles and their engineers to make surveys. They think the board should show the public some results on the 12.55 acres they now own before talking about additional land.

New ideas in homes





THE TAYLOR — Modern lines distinguish this six room, two-story house, the Taylor. Pictured here it is finished in wide clapboard laid 8, to the weather to the top of the parapet around the second story sun deck. Above the parapet level flush siding makes a perfect background for the triple-sash casement windows. The house would look equally appropriate built of cement cinder block with a plaster coat of smooth white stucco. The Taylor is one of the larger houses of our Housing Plan Series. In addition to its six rooms and bath it has an attached garage, a good sized breakfast room adjoining the kitchen, a first floor lavatory and a full basement with ample space for the heating plant, laundry and for a large recreation room.

The living room is 25 feet long. A dining "L" 11½ feet deep extends the living room to over 36 feet for large parties. It opens into a rear covered porch which in turn is supplemented by a large open terrace. The stairs rise out of a spacious hall off which closet and the lavatory open. The front door is reached from the kitchen without passing through the living room. The breakfast room is 11½ feet by 6 feet. The location of the garage eliminates the necessity for a long driveway and turnaround.

The three bedrooms on the second floor are large and with abundant closet space. Two of them open onto the canvas covered deck, which is ideal for sun bathing and outdoor sleeping.

Although the Taylor is larger than most of the houses that have been built during the period of war shortages, war costs and war restrictions, its simple straightforward lines and its unbroken hipped roof make it an economical house per cubic foot of available space. It was designed to conform to the standards and requirements of Federal Housing Administration. Its electrical plan carries the approval of National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Complete architect's working drawings and specifications cost $7.50 per set and should be ordered from Paddock Publishers, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Thinks happiness could easily be shared by couples with just a little bit of effort

HAPPINESS

It is mighty fine to read complimentary letters to the editor such as appeared in the October 31 issue. It is my personal opinion in quoting that the editors are doing a fine job of bringing items of note and importance to the attention of subscribers of the Paddock Publications in their area.

The other day I notice a young couple and their two small children walking along our street. This couple seemed very engrossed in each other and shortly after while down in the shopping area I notice a married couple, very much in discord with one another. The young man was very abusive toward his wife and one could note the hurt, disappointment and discouragement on her features, which decided me to enclose the following poem which I trust the editor will publish in the Fence Post. I feel assured we can profit by it.

If you really love her, now is the time to tell her so.
Along with the toils and cares
of martial life,
In spite of the problems of
business strife,
If you really value your cherishing wife,
Kiss her and tell her so!
When days are discouraging and deeply blue,
Remember she has troubles, the
same as you,
Just show her that your love for
her is true,
Take her in your arms and tell
her so!
Don't treat her as if she were past her prime
And that to please her—were a crime,
If you really love her—now is the time to tell her so!
She will return for every thoughtful carress
To you a hundredfold of tenderness
Hearts of gold—like hers—were made to bless—
Just tell her so!
For you are hers—and hers
alone,
And you well known, she is all
your own,
Don't wait to carve an epitaph
for her upon a stone—
If you truly love her—now is the time
To tell her so!
Never let her affection for you
grow cold,
And richer beauties, for you two
—will unfold,
For she is truly worth her
weight in gold,
So just kiss her,
And tell her so.

PARKING METERS

With discussion of parking meters now going on in Arlington Heights and Palatine, I offer this clipping of a story appearing September 24 in the Vancouver Daily Province.

MINORITY RIGHTS

A Palatine gentleman pens in answer to my letter in which I "condoned" the use by the editor of the phrase "nigger in the woodpile." In writing to the Fence Post I endeavored to avoid "false generalizations" and stick to the legal and constitutional phase of the matter. I am not a lawyer; but law they say is common sense. Claiming to possess a modicum of the latter, here goes:

The gentleman upbraids me for making comparisons with designations which refer to other minorities. Such illustrations are often made in courts of law. He himself "generalizes" quite a bit in his letter.

But after all, the question before the house is: "Should or should not the word "nigger" be expunged, erased, eliminated, etc., from the English language?"

I don't think it's probable or possible, any more than trying to remove those other "vulgar" designations from the general vocabulary. However, I suppose the "fellow" would say "there ought to be a law" — which would likely be about as successful as the late lamented 18th amendment.

The use of those phrases does in no way abridge the constitutional rights of minority individuals. Some may not like it but as Lewis Carroll said in "Alice in Wonderland," "Why are these creatures so sensitive?"

The gentleman's funny remarks about "white oppression" and negroes that don't work hard because they know they can get other jobs just like it—almost arouses my risibilities.

C. H. Hunt
Arlington Heights.

It Happened Here

Tree Friends

The beech wears a gown a queen might choose,
Has polished brown nuts a
squirrel can use;
A beechwood is floored with
coppery gold
And no temple on earth more glory could hold.
The elm is a harp for the winds
to play,
It gives music and shade the
livelong day;
In winter its branches are lined with snow
And weave intricate patterns
on leaves below.
The maple is truly the forest's
pride·
In her scarlet and gold she is
the king's bride;
She glows with joy in her robes
of state-
Surely she, of all trees, is a royal mate.
Now the shagbark is the hickory tree,
Her nuts the children gather with glee.
Walnut and butternut, these,
too, are my friends;
I'll seek their gifts when the season ends.

SQUAW WINTER

This area was treated to its first real touch of squaw winter over the week end with the temperature down below freezing and a sifting of snow visible in spots. Following this first touch of winter there should come some real Indian summer day later in November.

The cold weather was welcomed by hunters as it was expected to drive the water fowl down from the north country and make hunting along the Illinois river and in other areas of the state more seasonable, as the warm October weather had not brought down many of the northern game birds.

Now if a spell of Indian summer follows the squaw winter the hunters will have had a whack at only only good duck weather during the cold spell, but also some nice weather for upland bird hunting, such as pheasants and quail.

FREEZE AT LAST

The fall of 1947 did pretty well in not having a freeze that killed off all the flowers and vegetable plants until Nov. 7 and 8. Last Friday night's freeze just about finished off things and ran George Butler's katydid prophecy of Nov. 15 as the date of the killing frost to within a week of being right.

Now when George talks about his katydid's forecasting a killing frost it means a kill everything freeze, and when Jerry Acree talks about the same thing it means the first frost that kills anything. Jerry's frosts are supposed to come six weeks after the first katydid chirps and George's are due 90 days after the katydids start their concerts.

LAST BELL

Since the Palatine village board has started to hold its meetings in a schoolroom (the village hall being used for that purpose) it might be well if they observed some of the formalities of their new environment. For instance, how about ringing a last bell as tardy bell at about 8 p. m. on board meeting nights.

We walked into the board room one meeting night promptly at 8 o'clock, scheduled starting time. In the room were the village clerk, the village attorney, one trustee and one spectator.

The last bell that night would have seen the mayor and the rest of the trustees come sliding in like a lot of tardy youngsters after the ringing of the school bell. Maybe the boys ought to open the evening's deliberation with a song, that's the popular opening of a school session, or at least it used to be.

Each fall the Sanitary Market decorates a fall window with products of the field and garden. There are all sorts of various colored ears of corn, autum leaves and other decorations that remind one of the fall season. Then there are stuffed birds of various species, both upland game and water fowl.

After Hallowe'en the window is changed, but for several weeks that window is an interesting and entertaining sight on one of the main business streets of the town.

There seems to be a big difference of opinion as to the future growth of Palatine. Everyone knows that Palatine is growing fast, but where is it going to end?

The park planners say 15,000 or 20,000 population in a few years. President Gray Sanborn of the Consolidated school board received a letter the other day from Robert Kingery of the Chicago Regional Planning Commission that forecast a population for the village of Palatine of 7,000 by 1960 and a township population of 11,000 at that time.

The Regional Planning Commission has the statistics of telephone growth, other public utility growth and population trends over a long period of years on which to base their forecasts. These forecasts for the last many years have been extremely accurate in the Chicago area and the figures of this group have become looked upon as the best authority available for estimates of population and community growth.

A careful study of the situation leads one to believe that Mr. Kingery's figures are more nearly the right ones, unless of course Palatine does as one resident of Barrington said when he heard the two sets of figures, "What's Palatine going to do, annex Barrington to get up to that 15 or 20 thousand population?"

Should planners plan on a future depression? That question was raised by the repeated statement of the Palatine park planner at the Community club meeting recently when in painting his picture of future park development he made repeated statements that maybe another depression would come along and the park could get a swimming pool and other improvements built for it.

Are we to plan on future depressions in America in order to get government aid in getting things done by some of the made work stop gaps of the government? Is that what America is coming to—Is that the American way of doing things?

It certainly wasn't the idea of the founding fathers of this country to rely on depressions for community progress. That wasn't their idea of a self reliant independent people's way of doing things.

THE TREE COUNTER

Fred Oswald has seen warmer days than last Saturday on which to count trees, but last week he had a tree counting job to do and there he was at it all bundled up in several coats, a cap and heavy gloves making a survey and tree count of the property along the south line of the new school and new park property. These lots have been included in the dream plan of the new park.

None of the owners have been approached on the subject of whether those lots were for sale or not, yet they are being surveyed and a count made of the trees and shrubs by the park board. A depth of 145 feet from the south line of the school and park property is being talked about.

The owners of that property have use for that property, despite the assertion that this land lacked property and therefor was not of much value. The owners have had that property for years, they use it and the fact that they have had to learn about park plans through the grapevine and not from the park officials has not made them take any more kindly to the idea of having their property confiscated through condemnation proceedings.

They feel that the friendly and neighborly thing to have done would have been for the park board to talk things over with them before ordering their attorney to look up titles and their engineers to make surveys. They think the board should show the public some results on the 12.55 acres they now own before talking about additional land.

Thinks happiness could easily be shared by couples with just a little bit of effort

HAPPINESS

It is mighty fine to read complimentary letters to the editor such as appeared in the October 31 issue. It is my personal opinion in quoting that the editors are doing a fine job of bringing items of note and importance to the attention of subscribers of the Paddock Publications in their area.

The other day I notice a young couple and their two small children walking along our street. This couple seemed very engrossed in each other and shortly after while down in the shopping area I notice a married couple, very much in discord with one another. The young man was very abusive toward his wife and one could note the hurt, disappointment and discouragement on her features, which decided me to enclose the following poem which I trust the editor will publish in the Fence Post. I feel assured we can profit by it.

If you really love her, now is the time to tell her so.
Along with the toils and cares
of martial life,
In spite of the problems of
business strife,
If you really value your cherishing wife,
Kiss her and tell her so!
When days are discouraging and
deeply blue,
Remember she has troubles, the
same as you,
Just show her that your love for
her is true,
Take her in your arms and tell
her so!
Don't treat her as if she were past her prime
And that to please her—were a crime,
If you really love her—now is the time to tell her so!
She will return for every
thoughtful carress
To you a hundredfold of tenderness
Hearts of gold—like hers—were made to bless—
Just tell her so!
For you are hers—and hers
alone,
And you well known, she is all
your own,
Don't wait to carve an epitaph
for her upon a stone—
If you truly love her—now is the time
To tell her so!
Never let her affection for you
grow cold,
And richer beauties, for you two
—will unfold,
For she is truly worth her
weight in gold,
So just kiss her,
And tell her so.

PARKING METERS

With discussion of parking meters now going on in Arlington Heights and Palatine, I offer this clipping of a story appearing September 24 in the Vancouver Daily Province.

"Parking meters have almost eliminated all day parking on the main street. Since use of meters began, at least 75% of the street is now open for shoppers to park."

MINORITY RIGHTS

A Palatine gentleman pens in answer to my letter in which I "condoned" the use by the editor of the phrase "nigger in the woodpile." In writing to the Fence Post I endeavored to avoid "false generalizations" and stick to the legal and constitutional phase of the matter. I am not a lawyer; but law they say is common sense. Claiming to possess a modicum of the latter, here goes:

The gentleman upbraids me for making comparisons with designations which refer to other minorities. Such illustrations are often made in courts of law. He himself "generalizes" quite a bit in his letter.

But after all, the question before the house is: "Should or should not the word "nigger" be expunged, erased, eliminated, etc., from the English language?"

I don't think it's probable or possible, any more than trying to remove those other "vulgar" designations from the general vocabulary. However, I suppose the "fellow" would say "there ought to be a law" — which would likely be about as successful as the late lamented 18th amendment.

The use of those phrases does in no way abridge the constitutional rights of minority individuals. Some may not like it but as Lewis Carroll said in "Alice in Wonderland," "Why are these creatures so sensitive?"

The gentleman's funny remarks about "white oppression" and negroes that don't work hard because they know they can get other jobs just like it—almost arouses my risibilities.

It Happened Here

Tree Friends

The beech wears a gown a queen might choose,
Has polished brown nuts a
squirrel can use;
A beechwood is floored with
coppery gold
And no temple on earth more
glory could hold.
The elm is a harp for the winds
to play,
It gives music and shade the
livelong day;
In winter its branches are lined with snow
And weave intricate patterns
on leaves below.
The maple is truly the forest's
pride
In her scarlet and gold she is
the king's bride;
She glows with joy in her robes
of state-
Surely she, of all trees, is a royal mate.
Now the shagbark is the hickory tree,
Her nuts the children gather
with glee.
Walnut and butternut, these,
too, are my friends;
I'll seek their gifts when the
season ends.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

This is National Education Week. Every adult should be interested, particularly parents of school age children.

The dictionary says: "Education is the training of the mental and moral powers, either by system of study and discipline, or by the experience of life."

If we are to think about education we must naturally think about educators—the teachers. Horace Mann said, "teaching is the noblest work that man or angels may do." If this be true, we are immediately concerned with the qualities that make a good teacher.

This question came to the fore in the 1930's when the Carnegie Foundation published its extensive study on "The Student and His Knowledge." On a basis of a series of tests and examinations given to some fifty thousand representative college students in Pennsylvania, it was found that schools of education and teachers' colleges and institutions for teacher training were working with indifferent material and turning out an unsatisfactory product. Even in liberal arts colleges, graduates who were planning to become teachers were generally found in the lower half of their classes. The intellectual competence and achievement of prospective teachers was second rate, lower than that of men and women planning to enter any of the other learned professions.

William James held that our faith in education was too naive. We were then too willing to subscribe to the notion that education, any education, was the salvation of democracy. Good teaching, he felt must be anchored in some adequate conception of what constitutes the good life. It is easier for us to accept this conclusion now that we are so frantically concerned about re-educating the Nazis.

Christian Gauss, a member of the Princeton faculty for 41 years, twenty as dean, retired last year. He has written a very enlightening article on the purposes of teaching for the New York Times. It will not hurt any of us to consider some of these purposes for a better understanding in the educating of our own children in our own country.

Dean Gauss says in this article that the function of the good teacher is to transform originally selfish and self-centered human material. From kindergarten through college, the teacher's continuing task is to make his pupil a different and a better man.

The Dean put the question, "What makes a good teacher," to a number of the ablest teachers of his acquaintance. Every one of some twenty-five replies indicated that certain personal traits were indispensable. The majority used the word "personality." Others indicated that they would have used it save the word had become too vague. A few used the word "sincerity." The good teacher must have a command of a field of knowledge. He must be able to transmit effectively the results of this command to his students. The Dean goes on to say that no teacher can do a first class job without meeting both of these requirements. These two imply a third. Except in some highly specialized sciences, no man can have a command of any field of knowledge or transmit its results effectively unless he has acquired something approaching mastery of the English language. "Any lubber can, in Hamlet's phrase, tell a hawk from a handsaw, but the prospective citizen remains a wishful thinker and an easy victim for propagandists until he has learned to make those fine distinctions in which the essence of the truth so often lies. This calls for a fair degree of competence in the use of language."

"By a command of a field we mean that the teacher must have made himself familiar with all its outstanding landmarks and the results of significant research to the point where, without losing himself in a maze of detail, he can add something of his own to an adequate and inclusive presentation.

"It is reassuring to find that there is no lack of interest in this problem among the younger generation of teachers now carrying on in the colleges. One of my younger colleagues, who is himself, one of our outstanding professors of English, conducted a symposium with a number of other successful young teachers. Most of them agreed that the best over-all key word for the good teacher is "personality." The good teacher must make his students want to learn, not think that they ought to or have to.

"The critic who said that education is what you have forgotten all you ever learned at college was right in this respect, that the transformation of the originally selfish and self-centered human animal into an enlightened and humane person is far more important than any set of facts or conclusions in particular subjects of study.

"The really great school and college teachers are not primarily teachers in biology, English or economics. They are teachers of your men and women. Their success can be measured by the degree to which they correct, humanize and enrich the student's perspective, and give him wider interests, new horizons, enlarged frames of reference, and those sounder habits of working and thinking which make it possible for him to discover the relevant facts in any field, and on his own reach valid conclusions."

There is plenty of food for though in these words of a great educator.

With love, Mary.

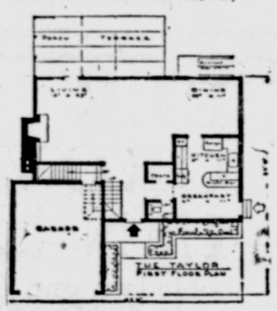
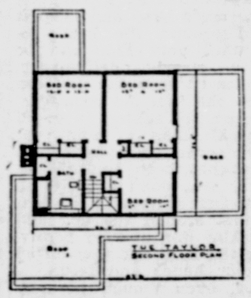
New ideas in homes





THE TAYLOR — Modern lines distinguish this six room, two-story house, the Taylor. Pictured here it is finished in wide clapboard laid 8, to the weather to the top of the parapet around the second story sun deck. Above the parapet level flush siding makes a perfect background for the triple-sash casement windows. The house would look equally appropriate built of cement cinder block with a plaster coat of smooth white stucco. The Taylor is one of the larger houses of our Housing Plan Series. In addition to its six rooms and bath it has an attached garage, a good sized breakfast room adjoining the kitchen, a first floor lavatory and a full basement with ample space for the heating plant, laundry and for a large recreation room.

The living room is 25 feet long. A dining "L" 11½ feet deep extends the living room to over 36 feet for large parties. It opens into a rear covered porch which in turn is supplemented by a large open terrace. The stairs rise out of a spacious hall off which closet and the lavatory open. The front door is reached from the kitchen without passing through the living room. The breakfast room is 11½ feet by 6 feet. The location of the garage eliminates the necessity for a long driveway and turnaround.

The three bedrooms on the second floor are large and with abundant closet space. Two of them open onto the canvas covered deck, which is ideal for sun bathing and outdoor sleeping.

Although the Taylor is larger than most of the houses that have been built during the period of war shortages, war costs and war restrictions, its simple straightforward lines and its unbroken hipped roof make it an economical house per cubic foot of available space. It was designed to conform to the standards and requirements of Federal Housing Administration. Its electrical plan carries the approval of National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Complete architect's working drawings and specifications cost $7.50 per set and should be ordered from Paddock Publishers, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Springer Trials

Last Sunday, November 2, one of our "doggy neighbors" from up Barrington way by the name of Martin Hogan, ended up by winning the Open All-Age Stake at the 15th annual field trial held at Lake Bluff sponsored by the English Springer Field Trial Club of Illinois, with a six year old springer by the name of Altskeith Don.

Don, who is owned by David B. Silberman of Chicago, was trained and handled by Mr. Hogan—who by the way is considered one of the finest trainers of sporting dogs in the United States.

Dogs and Traps

Dog-owners living in rural districts often find themselves faced with the problem of releasing a dog caught in a fox, or other game trap or a wire snare. Even the gentlest dog is liable to bite when so imprisoned, and should be approached with caution. If a hay-fork is available, or even a forked stick, it can be used to put around the dog's neck so as to force his head down and keep him from taking a nip out of your hand.

If none of the above articles are available then the best idea is to throw a coat or blanket over the dog's head and keep it wrapped around the head securely until poor Fido can be given a speedy deliverance. Once released then the dog can be given the first aid required.

While on this subject it would be a good thing to point out that whenever you pick up a dog that has been injured—hit by a car etc., don't ever do so without first throwing a coat or blanket around the dog and then picking him up very gently, keeping the head and jaws away from your hands and face.

A dog, even though he may be the family pet, will often take a bite out of a person under such conditions, not realizing what he is doing because of intense pain.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by Leland Ellis Truxel

Some time ago, I was in a department store where they were having a sale of women's silk hose. It was during the war, before limits had been imposed. The store was packed with women, their expressions grim and set. They pushed and shoved, stepped on each other's toes, glared hatefully at each woman who succeeded in purchasing the much sought stockings. They actually hated one another to a point where they would have fought — and maybe if it were not for the law carrying a heavy penalty for murder — might have killed just to possess those stockings.

"Me first!" was their slogan. And "Me First" is the slogan of most of us. Labor shouting "Me First" at capital as they struggle constantly for more wage increases. Some business men shouting "Me First" as they place cheap, shoddy merchandise on their counters and endeavor to sell it for twice or three times what they formerly charged.

And so the ridiculous spiral of prices and wages is continuing and is going to continue as long as selfish groups and individuals continue to shout "Me First." It will continue until our economy is completely upset, and millions are out of work, parading the street sullenly and defiantly, perhaps even seeking a means of overthrowing our government and attempting to establish a new one. And in the mean time, the industrial leaders of the land will continue to closet themselves behind their luxurious conference halls, and the sum total of their discussion will be "Me First."

When are we going to learn to be considerate of one another? Is there never going to be a change in man's heart? Will he always be an animal on the hunt, slinking through life, seeking only to fill his own belly and caring nothing that others suffer because of his greediness?

Communism in Russia, a bleeding and torn Europe now starving, suffering, harship, death wherever one looks — in India, Palestine, Europe —, hatred, suspicion, jealousy, rumors of another war, threats — and on and on.

Where will it all end? Back in the jungles?

Ministers down through the centuries have preached the Golden Rule, the solution to all o our problems. "Love one another," they plead. "Do unto others as ye yould have others do unto you." Dog Facts

Seven out of 10 American families prefer a dog to a cat as a pet, according to a recent Gallup poll.

And also, if your dog is bothered with fleas, don't be too surprised, for there are 300 various types of the pests. According to Kennel-Bits there are about 230 residing in the west and the rest of the group in the east. Dogs are not the only ones bothered by this insect. They are just as partial to cats, chickens, livestock and—humans!

Springer Trials

Last Sunday, November 2, one of our "doggy neighbors" from up Barrington way by the name of Martin Hogan, ended up by winning the Open All-Age Stake at the 15th annual field trial held at Lake Bluff sponsored by the English Springer Field Trial Club of Illinois, with a six year old springer by the name of Altskeith Don.

Don, who is owned by David B. Silberman of Chicago, was trained and handled by Mr. Hogan—who by the way is considered one of the finest trainers of sporting dogs in the United States.

Dogs and Traps

Dog-owners living in rural districts often find themselves faced with the problem of releasing a dog caught in a fox, or other game trap or a wire snare. Even the gentlest dog is liable to bite when so imprisoned, and should be approached with caution. If a hay-fork is available, or even a forked stick, it can be used to put around the dog's neck so as to force his head down and keep him from taking a nip out of your hand.

If none of the above articles are available then the best idea is to throw a coat or blanket over the dog's head and keep it wrapped around the head securely until poor Fido can be given a speedy deliverance. Once released then the dog can be given the first aid required.

While on this subject it would be a good thing to point out that whenever you pick up a dog that has been injured—hit by a car etc., don't ever do so without first throwing a coat or blanket around the dog and then picking him up very gently, keeping the head and jaws away from your hands and face.

A dog, even though he may be the family pet, will often take a bite out of a person under such conditions, not realizing what he is doing because of intense pain.

Dog Facts

Seven out of 10 American families prefer a dog to a cat as a pet, according to a recent Gallup poll.

And also, if your dog is bothered with fleas, don't be too surprised, for there are 300 various types of the pests. According to Kennel-Bits there are about 230 residing in the west and the rest of the group in the east. Dogs are not the only ones bothered by this insect. They are just as partial to cats, chickens, livestock and—humans!

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by Leland Ellis Truxel

Some time ago, I was in a department store where they were having a sale of women's silk hose. It was during the war, before limits had been imposed. The store was packed with women, their expressions grim and set. They pushed and shoved, stepped on each other's toes, glared hatefully at each woman who succeeded in purchasing the much sought stockings. They actually hated one another to a point where they would have fought — and maybe if it were not for the law carrying a heavy penalty for murder — might have killed just to possess those stockings.

"Me first!" was their slogan. And "Me First" is the slogan of most of us. Labor shouting "Me First" at capital as they struggle constantly for more wage increases. Some business men shouting "Me First" as they place cheap, shoddy merchandise on their counters and endeavor to sell it for twice or three times what they formerly charged.

And so the ridiculous spiral of prices and wages is continuing and is going to continue as long as selfish groups and individuals continue to shout "Me First." It will continue until our economy is completely upset, and millions are out of work, parading the street sullenly and defiantly, perhaps even seeking a means of overthrowing our government and attempting to establish a new one. And in the mean time, the industrial leaders of the land will continue to closet themselves behind their luxurious conference halls, and the sum total of their discussion will be "Me First."

When are we going to learn to be considerate of one another? Is there never going to be a change in man's heart? Will he always be an animal on the hunt, slinking through life, seeking only to fill his own belly and caring nothing that others suffer because of his greediness?

Communism in Russia, a bleeding and torn Europe now starving, suffering, harship, death wherever one looks — in India, Palestine, Europe —, hatred, suspicion, jealousy, rumors of another war, threats — and on and on.

Where will it all end? Back in the jungles?

Ministers down through the centuries have preached the Golden Rule, the solution to all o our problems. "Love one another," they plead. "Do unto others as ye would have others do unto you." But their voices are too few and feeble. They are downed by the shouting multitudes, rich and poor, educated and ignorant, white and black, thieves and so called honest men — "Me First!" Always, always — "Me First!"

Lesson in English

by W. L. GORDON

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "They holidayed at Miami Beach." Holiday is a noun and an adjective, but not a verb. "They spent the holiday (noun) at the beach, dressed in holiday (adjective) attire."

"Both men were not there," used negatively, is ambiguous. It could mean that neither was there, or only one was there.

Do not say, "He speaks with a slow drawl." This is redundant. Say, "He speaks with a drawl."

Do not say, "He would sooner starve than work." Say, "He would rather starve than work."

Do not say, "sink down." Down is superfluous, as sink means to go down.

Say, "I beg your pardon" or "pardon me" when expressing regret for some blunder or breach of etiquette. Say, "Please excuse me" when leaving the room or the table.

WORDS OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Derision; pronounce de-rizh-un, first i as in it, s as z. Derisive; pronounce de-ri-size, first i as in right, s as in so.

Accouter. Pronounce a-koo-ter, a as in at unstressed, oo as in too, accent second syllable.

Syringe. Pronounce sir-inj, both i's as in it, accent first syllable.

Goulash. Pronounce goo-lash, oo as in eoo, a as in ah, accent first syllable.

Occult. Pronounce o-kult, o as in of unstressed, u as in up, and accent first syllable.

Orgy. Pronounce or-ji, o as in or, i as in it.

WORDS OFTEN MISSPELLED

Vale (a valley). Veil (a cover). Diaphragm; observe closely the consonants; last syllable is pronounced fram. Wholesome; retain the e after the l. Traffic; two f's. Necessity; one c, two s's. Wreath (noun). Wreathe (verb).

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Integrity; moral soundness; honesty; uprightness. "A man of integrity will never listen to any reason against conscience."—Home.

Termagant; a boisterous, brawling, turbulent woman. "Though his wife was a termagant, he seemed to love her."

Somnolent; sleepy, drowsy; inclined to sleep. (Pronounce first o as in on, second o as in no, accent first syllable.) "I remember him as a lazy, rather somnolent youth."

Confidant (masculine), confidante (feminine); one to whom secrets are confided. (Accent last syllable). "Most frequently we make confidants from vanity, a love of talking . . . and to make an exchange of secrets." La Rochefoucauld.

Indeterminate; not settled or fixed; indefinite. (Accent follows the r). "He was given an indeterminate sentence in prison."

Principles of Machinery

Every machine in the world is based on six fundamental principles; lever, wedge, screw, pulley, inclined plane and wheel.

Japan

Technician Fifth Grade Victor Leash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Leash of Box 83, Wheeling, recently teamed with Technician Fifth Grade Andy Moses of Dowagiac, Mich., to win the 24th Infantry Division Ping Pong Doubles Championship. He also competed in the quarter finals for the singles championship.

Cpl. Leash entered the Army on September 30, 1946, at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. He received basic training at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, prior to his oversea's assignment in Japan. He arrived in Japan on January 18, 1947, and a few days later on January 28 was received into the 24th Infantry Division. He is now serving with the 4th Platoon of the 5th Special Service Company, a unit of the 8th Army.

Cpl. Leash graduated from Northbrook high school and completed one year at the University of Illinois before joining the Regular Army.

COMMON SENSE

A girl is a pleasant dinner companion when she makes a man think she is taking dinner with him and not from him.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

1. Is it all right to use ruled paper for social correspondence?
2. At a dinner dance, should a man rise when his partner leaves the table to dance with another man?
3. Is it customary to send gifts for a second marriage?
4. Is it proper for a man to cross in front of a woman, when walking?
5. Is it necessary to wear black when attending the funeral of a friend?
6. When giving a formal banquet, where should the corsage bouquets for the women guests be placed?
7. Is it good form for the bride to accompany the bridegroom when he buys the wedding ring?
8. Isn't it proper for a hostess to insist upon paying for the long distance telephone calls of a guest?
9. Is it permissible for a girl to refuse to dance with a man when he "cuts in"?
10. When it is necessary for a person to blow his nose in company, should he apologize?
11. When calling upon an acquaintance, and some servant opens the door for you, is it necessary to say "Thank you"?
12. Should one write letters or notes to announce the birth of a baby?

ANSWERS

1. No; if there is trouble in writing a straight line, buy the black-ruled paper which fits under the notepaper and envelopes. These are called guides and can be purchased in any stationery store. 2. Yes. 3. Yes, although these gifts are usually not as costly as for a first wedding. 4. No, the woman should have the right of way whenever possible, and the man should cross behind her instead of in front of her. 5. No. Of course, one should wear a subdued color—nothing loud and gay. 6. On the dinner napkins, at the left of the plates. 7. Yes, the bride has the privilege of expressing her preference as to width and size, and her choice of yellow gold, white gold, or platinum. 8. No; the guest should pay this expense. 9. No. 10. No, but try to make the performance as quiet as possible. Do not imitate a foghorn. 11. As this is merely a matter of routine, it is not exactly necessary to say "thanks" but is far from being a faux pas-tesy. 12. This is usually done by to say "thank you" for any cour-means of cards.

Lesson in English

by W. L. GORDON

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "They holidayed at Miami Beach." Holiday is a noun and an adjective, but not a verb. "They spent the holiday (noun) at the beach, dressed in holiday (adjective) attire."

"Both men were not there," used negatively, is ambiguous. It could mean that neither was there, or only one was there.

Do not say, "He speaks with a slow drawl." This is redundant. Say, "He speaks with a drawl."

Do not say, "He would sooner starve than work." Say, "He would rather starve than work."

Do not say, "sink down." Down is superfluous, as sink means to go down.

Say, "I beg your pardon" or "pardon me" when expressing regret for some blunder or breach of etiquette. Say, "Please excuse me" when leaving the room or the table.

WORDS OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Derision; pronounce de-rizh-un, first i as in it, s as z. Derisive; pronounce de-ri-size, first i as in right, s as in so.

Accouter. Pronounce a-koo-ter, a as in at unstressed, oo as in too, accent second syllable.

Syringe. Pronounce sir-inj, both i's as in it, accent first syllable.

Goulash. Pronounce goo-lash, oo as in eoo, a as in ah, accent first syllable.

Occult. Pronounce o-kult, o as in of unstressed, u as in up, and accent first syllable.

Orgy. Pronounce or-ji, o as in or, i as in it.

WORDS OFTEN MISSPELLED

Vale (a valley). Veil (a cover). Diaphragm; observe closely the consonants; last syllable is pronounced fram. Wholesome; retain the e after the l. Traffic; two f's. Necessity; one c, two s's. Wreath (noun). Wreathe (verb).

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Integrity; moral soundness; honesty; uprightness. "A man of integrity will never listen to any reason against conscience."—Home.

Termagant; a boisterous, brawling, turbulent woman. "Though his wife was a termagant, he seemed to love her."

Somnolent; sleepy, drowsy; inclined to sleep. (Pronounce first o as in on, second o as in no, accent first syllable.) "I remember him as a lazy, rather somnolent youth."

Confidant (masculine), confidante (feminine); one to whom secrets are confided. (Accent last syllable). "Most frequently we make confidants from vanity, a love of talking . . . and to make an exchange of secrets." La Rochefoucauld.

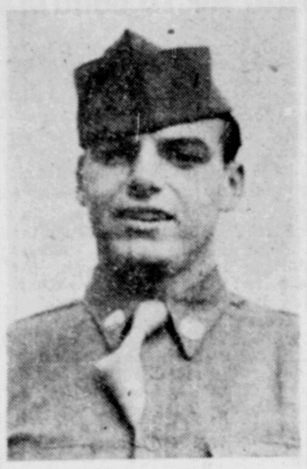
Indeterminate; not settled or fixed; indefinite. (Accent follows the r). "He was given an indeterminate sentence in prison."

Principles of Machinery

Every machine in the world is based on six fundamental principles; lever, wedge, screw, pulley, inclined plane and wheel.

Japan

Technician Fifth Grade Victor Leash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Leash of Box 83, Wheeling, recently teamed with Technician Fifth Grade Andy Moses of Dowagiac, Mich., to win the 24th Infantry Division Ping Pong Doubles Championship. He also competed in the quarter finals for the singles championship.



Cpl. Leash entered the Army on September 30, 1946, at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. He received basic training at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, prior to his oversea's assignment in Japan. He arrived in Japan on January 18, 1947, and a few days later on January 28 was received into the 24th Infantry Division. He is now serving with the 4th Platoon of the 5th Special Service Company, a unit of the 8th Army.

Cpl. Leash graduated from Northbrook high school and completed one year at the University of Illinois before joining the Regular Army.

COMMON SENSE

A girl is a pleasant dinner companion when she makes a man think she is taking dinner with him and not from him.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

1. Is it all right to use ruled paper for social correspondence?
2. At a dinner dance, should a man rise when his partner leaves the table to dance with another man?
3. Is it customary to send gifts for a second marriage?
4. Is it proper for a man to cross in front of a woman, when walking?
5. Is it necessary to wear black when attending the funeral of a friend?
6. When giving a formal banquet, where should the corsage bouquets for the women guests be placed?
7. Is it good form for the bride to accompany the bridegroom when he buys the wedding ring?
8. Isn't it proper for a hostess to insist upon paying for the long distance telephone calls of a guest?
9. Is it permissible for a girl to refuse to dance with a man when he "cuts in"?
10. When it is necessary for a person to blow his nose in company, should he apologize?
11. When calling upon an acquaintance, and some servant opens the door for you, is it necessary to say "Thank you"?
12. Should one write letters or notes to announce the birth of a baby?

ANSWERS

1. No; if there is trouble in writing a straight line, buy the black-ruled paper which fits under the notepaper and envelopes. These are called guides and can be purchased in any stationery store. 2. Yes. 3. Yes, although these gifts are usually not as costly as for a first wedding. 4. No, the woman should have the right of way whenever possible, and the man should cross behind her instead of in front of her. 5. No. Of course, one should wear a subdued color—nothing loud and gay. 6. On the dinner napkins, at the left of the plates. 7. Yes, the bride has the privilege of expressing her preference as to width and size, and her choice of yellow gold, white gold, or platinum. 8. No; the guest should pay this expense. 9. No. 10. No, but try to make the performance as quiet as possible. Do not imitate a foghorn. 11. As this is merely a matter of routine, it is not exactly necessary to say "thanks" but is far from being a faux pas-tesy. 12. This is usually done by to say "thank you" for any cour-means of cards.

They Want Taxes

Outdoorsmen are the only class who ask that they be taxed. They have demanded fishing licenses, hunting licenses and federal duck stamps so that funds would be available for stocking, management and protection of fish and game.

New tax body to levy maximum rate for TB control

Suburban tax payers face a possible maximum tax levy for the new Tuberculosis Control Authority approved by the voters November 4, equal to one-third of their tax rate for all other county services combined.

This was disclosed as officials prepared to get the new taxing body in operation.

FIRST STEP following the election is the offical canvass starting next Thursday in the office of County Clerk Michael J. Flynn.

Following entry of an order by the county court finding the district created, the county judge will appoint three directors, of which one must be a physician. They will organize the district, appoint a superintendent, and determine financing.

THE STATUTE provides a maximum tax of $.075 per hundred dollars assessed valuation. The 1946 valuation of suburban Cook county was $2,021,000,000, making a maximum tax that can be levied for one year $1,500,000. The maximum county tax is $.24 per $100, but that is collected from the city as well yielding a possible $22,000,000.

The district may also incur bonded indebtedness, if approved by a referendum, up to not over .5 percent of its assessed valuation, or $10,000,000.

The other suburban election results will also be canvassed.

Electric Wiring

Wiring should be checked to see that it is adequate for the load, that there are special circuits for appliances, that circuits are fused properly, that all extension and appliance cords are well covered with insulation material and not frayed or cracked. Worn cords should be replaced. Never use pennies or makeshift fuses. Motors and the area around them should be kept clean of refuse and accumulations of grease and inflammable material so that, in case of a short circuit, there will be no inflammable material to spread a blaze.

Lutheran Laymen's League to meet in convention

The district convention of the Lutheran Laymen's League will meet at Immanuel Lutheran church, Des Plaines, next Sunday afternoon and evening, Nov. 16. A committee in charge of the arrangements at Des Plaines, visited the Arlington Heights meeting about a month ago and secured the pledge of a good-sized delegation from here to be in attendance at the convention. Plans are to make this the largest district convention held in northern Illinois. A special program will be arranged for the ladies in attendance.

Efforts are being made to seat over 600 guests at the banquet at the low cost of $1.00 per plate. Call E. P. Janusch, phone Arlington Heights 58-R, for a reservation.

Dutch for the Physicians

A century ago the Japanese government, which had discouraged the study of the Dutch language, permitted only physicians to learn it. The result was that everyone who wished to learn Dutch professed to be a medical student and 3,000 pupils are said to have passed through the medical school in Osaka in 24 years.

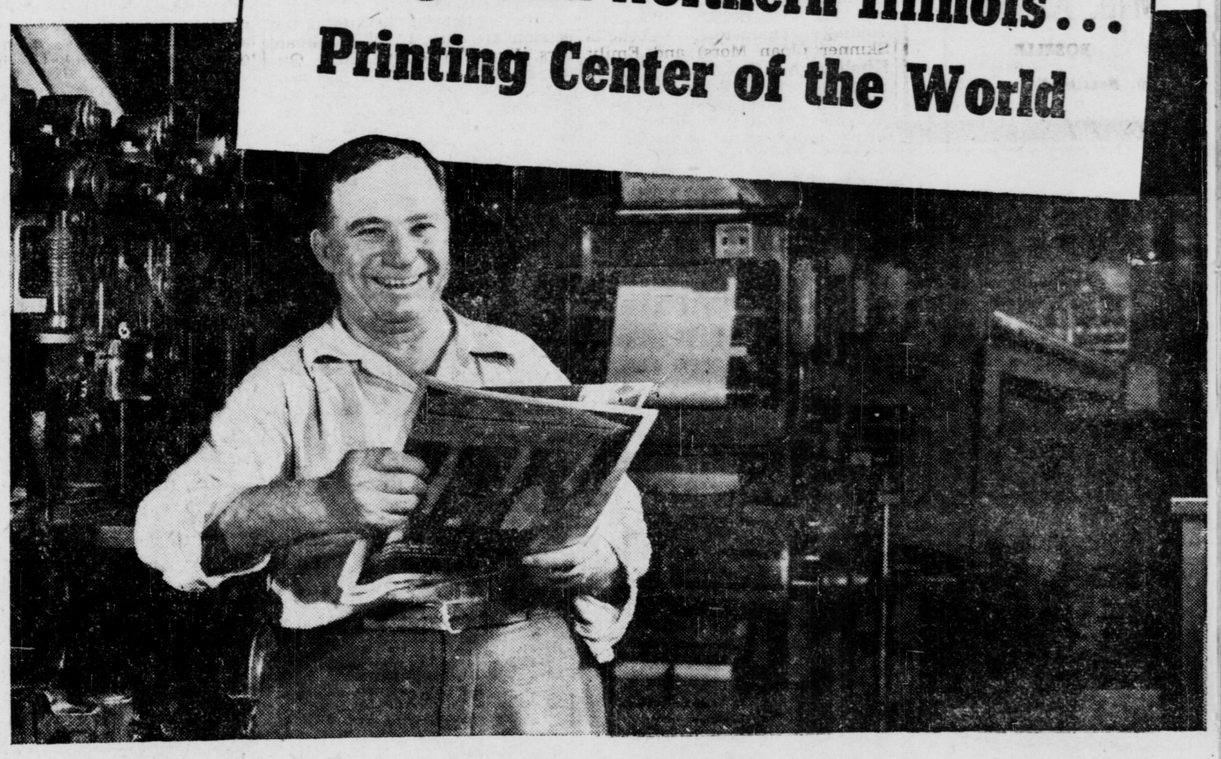
Chicago and Northern Illinois... Printing Center of the World



Working on big printing presses has been my job for 20 years. I help print the millions of books, magazines and catalogs that publishers and mail order houses send every year to readers all over the world. In my lifetime I've seen this area take the lead in printing. The concentration of skilled labor and equipment in the graphic arts industries of this region is today unequalled anywhere in the world.

"Printing is my business, and I'm glad I live and work where opportunities in my line, and many others, are greatest."

This pressman* is one of 70,000 skilled craftsmen who work in the tremendous printing industry in this area. The graphic arts group in this area is the most mechanically complete and widely diversified in the United States. It ranks first in number of employes, wages paid, number of establishments, and is highest in economic value. Located here are the three largest commercial printing plants in the world, as well as hundreds of smaller printing specialists with fine skills and equipment to meet every conceivable requirement as to artistry, economy, and flexibility of processes.

Everything from mail order catalogs to technical books is run off in the 3,100 printing plants in this region. Annually they produce a greater volume than any comparable area in the world. And today, to meet the ever-increasing needs of industries here, Northern Illinois is rapidly expanding in every field of commercial printing.

The postal zoning laws for second-class mailings passed in 1918 made Northern Illinois the most economical and strategic location for the printing of national publications. Within a radius of 500 miles are more than a third of the nation's readers and buyers and 39 per cent of the nation's manufacturing concerns. Magazines and catalogs, as well as products from manufacturers in this area, reach their destinations quickly and on time because of the unexcelled shipping facilities of Northern Illinois . . . the greatest transportation center in the world.

To industries seeking locations, skilled workers and strategic location are only two of the many advantages offered by the Northern Illinois territory. As an aid to those considering relocation, our Territorial Information Department will supply factual data concerning this area and pertinent to your business. This department will supply studies in as great detail as is required, confidentially and without charge.

They Want Taxes

Outdoorsmen are the only class who ask that they be taxed. They have demanded fishing licenses, hunting licenses and federal duck stamps so that funds would be available for stocking, management and protection of fish and game.

New tax body to levy maximum rate for TB control

Suburban tax payers face a possible maximum tax levy for the new Tuberculosis Control Authority approved by the voters November 4, equal to one-third of their tax rate for all other county services combined.

This was disclosed as officials prepared to get the new taxing body in operation.

FIRST STEP following the election is the offical canvass starting next Thursday in the office of County Clerk Michael J. Flynn.

Following entry of an order by the county court finding the district created, the county judge will appoint three directors, of which one must be a physician. They will organize the district, appoint a superintendent, and determine financing.

THE STATUTE provides a maximum tax of $.075 per hundred dollars assessed valuation. The 1946 valuation of suburban Cook county was $2,021,000,000, making a maximum tax that can be levied for one year $1,500,000. The maximum county tax is $.24 per $100, but that is collected from the city as well yielding a possible $22,000,000.

The district may also incur bonded indebtedness, if approved by a referendum, up to not over .5 percent of its assessed valuation, or $10,000,000.

The other suburban election results will also be canvassed.

Electric Wiring

Wiring should be checked to see that it is adequate for the load, that there are special circuits for appliances, that circuits are fused properly, that all extension and appliance cords are well covered with insulation material and not frayed or cracked. Worn cords should be replaced. Never use pennies or makeshift fuses. Motors and the area around them should be kept clean of refuse and accumulations of grease and inflammable material so that, in case of a short circuit, there will be no inflammable material to spread a blaze.

Lutheran Laymen's League to meet in convention

The district convention of the Lutheran Laymen's League will meet at Immanuel Lutheran church, Des Plaines, next Sunday afternoon and evening, Nov. 16. A committee in charge of the arrangements at Des Plaines, visited the Arlington Heights meeting about a month ago and secured the pledge of a good-sized delegation from here to be in attendance at the convention. Plans are to make this the largest district convention held in northern Illinois. A special program will be arranged for the ladies in attendance.

Efforts are being made to seat over 600 guests at the banquet at the low cost of $1.00 per plate. Call E. P. Janusch, phone Arlington Heights 58-R, for a reservation.

Backstage with senior play at Arlington Hi

by LOIS KROEBER

Thursday and Friday, November 13 and 14, when the houselights dim, the curtain rises, and the audience settles back in their seats to witness the first act of the senior play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" at Arlington high school, they will see a lively comedy that is complete in every detail, costumes, scenery, sound effects and all. They'll see the finished product, but a lot has gone on behind the scenes to make this production possible.

Hard and tedious work goes into the making of a play. The cast must spend many hours perfecting their lines and practicing their motions, but they can have fun, too. For example, a scene in the third act calls for Dick (John Shanley) to kiss Emily (Dorothy Schlemmer). The first time it was rehearsed, the entire cast stood in a circle around Dorothy and John, eagerly waiting to see how they would go about it. Of course, after several rehearsals they became accustomed to it.

The play takes place in 1923, so naturally the costumes have to be of that period. If you don't think they would be very hard to find, just ask some of the students who spent several weeks hunting them up. By searching through attics, old trunks, and going to the Old Folks' Home, they produced several dresses that undoubtedly would have been considered the "New Look" of 1923. They are complete with dropped hemlines and long waists and made of georgette crepe and velvet. Wait until you see that chic little grey hat that one of the girls wears. Whenever anyone brought in a new article of clothing, the whole cast would go into fits of laughter over the funny looking clothes that people wore back in the early 20's.

The students made their own sound effects records, too. In the first act it was necessary to produce a noise similar to that of a boat leaving dock. The speech class solved this problem in an ingenious way. By using a whistle, shouting "bon voyage" and "good bye", and blowing into empty pop bottles, they produced a sound very much like that of a big ocean liner getting ready to leave. To top it off, the band played "Anchors Aweigh" while the record was being made. Watch for this scene in the first act, and you will agree that this student-made sound effects record is really good.

There are some French words in the play, and the cast had quite a time pronouncing them correctly — especially Ronald Weigand, who plays Monsieur De La Croix, a French actor. (By the way, did you know that "Croix" is pronounced "Crah," and not "Croycks"?)

Other difficulties were also met and conquered. The two leading characters, Cornelia Skinner (Joan Mors) and Emily Kimbrough (Dorothy Schlemmer) were instructed by their mothers to keep their valuables in safety pockets, which they wear under their skirts. The stage crew had to make these. They fasten around the waist and hang on a strap to the knee. Cornelia and Emily also had to practice leaping to the upper bunk of a double decker bed. Try it sometime if you think it's easy.

The stage and gymnasium were not always available for rehearsals, but that didn't stop the cast. Play practices were conducted in the library, the study hall, various classrooms, or wherever space could be found. If the gym was being used for basketball practice or for the adult evening classes, the cast and Mrs. Anderson, the director, would patiently trudge upstairs to the library and rehearse there in the midst of tables, chairs and bookshelves.

Now everything is ready for opening night. The delightful story of two young girls on their first trip to Europe is really something to remember. You'll laugh when you see Emily's efforts to save a drowning man, Cornelia's bout with the measles, the bedbugs, and—but wait! to tell any more would be giving away the plot. Come to the A. H. T. H. S. gym tonight and find out the rest for yourself!

Large Cook county group to attend IAA sessions

Proof that farmers have come into their own in all respects, including business, community affairs, and government, will be borne out this next week when the Illinois Agricultural Association holds its 33rd annual convention November 17-21 in St. Louis, Mo.

Ever since 1941, IAA annual sessions have been held in Chicago. These meetings solved housing shortages for those attending, but did produce travel difficulties for far downstate farmers who couldn't attend the meetings by rail.

THIS YEAR it was felt some downstate city should have the meeting, but no community other than Chicago could provide living quarters for the 3,000 to 4,000 expected to attend the IAA sessions. Thus, St. Louis, just across the Mississippi from Illinois, was selected.

Voting delegates from each county farm bureau will be on hand for the convention, as will others representing the 145,851 members of the IAA.

OFFICERS and voting delegates of Cook county farm bureau intending to be present in St. Louis include: president L. W. Pohlman, secretary Arthur G. Holste, vice president Henry Eichholz, Henry L. Moehling, Joseph Brooks, George Koss, E. A. Schoppe, August Sell and Jacob Ouwenga.

Others planning to attend the session are Mrs. L. W. Pohlman, Mrs. Henry Moehling, Mrs. Ouwenga, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carncross, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra McClaughry, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mills, and Homer Long.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

Hey did you see it
Wasn't it swell
The Davies Circus
Really rang the bell .

No truer words were ever spoken. Thongs of little folks, middle sized solks and big folks, yes even some babes in arms saw a star studded, exciting, breath taking, beautiful exhibition of talent, skill, and courage. The crowd started into the gymnasium of the high school about 2:30 p. m. Sunday and the first show had to be delayed so that all who wanted to get in could. Once in they flocked around the equipment, saw clowns, and ate cotton candy, popcorn, and waved balloons. In other words it was an old time (like we promised) three ring, big-top, circus.

Yes and what was the best of all, the cold, blistery weather couldn't take away the full enjoyment of the show.

We would sure like to thank the custodians of the Arlington Heights Township High School who did such a swell job in helping us arrange the circus. We'd especially like to thank Stanley Woznick without whose help we'd never have been able to get along. Thanks again.

And while we're passing out the bouquets we mustn't forget our swell adult committee and our fine directors, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy deserve the majority of credit for putting the circus across, but they received excellent support and cooperation from the other members of the adult committee.

Finally we'd like to express our appreciation to the high school administration who were really fine to let us use the gymnasium. Mr. Knoppel and Mr. Slichenmyer have given us support all the way down the line. We really appreciate it.

— Y. C. —

Say we're sorry to hear that Mr. Campbell's father is not in good health. Mr. Campbell was forced to go to see him. We hope that you father gets well soon, Mr. Campbell.

— Y. C. —

Now that the Y. C. is going into its winter season, we are planning a new series of activities. Some that have been suggested are toboggan parties, roller parties and ice skating parties. If you have any suggestions other than these tell any of the officers what th[illegible] and let the officers know [illegible] you would be interetsed in these activities already named.

— Y. C. —

We may thank this lady
And we may thank that man
For being such a leader
For aiding such a plan
But when it comes right down to it
Where is the credit due?
The credit goes where support comes from
The credit goes to you!
So thanks for coming out
Thanks for making a success
Of the Y. C. circus
Of wishes you deserve the best.

Elk Grove Cemetery Association to meet

The annual meeting of the Elk Grove Cemeter Association will be held at the home of Clarence Schuette, 216 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights on November 20, starting at 8:00 p. m.

Symbol of Maternity

In Oriental art the bat is a symbol of maternity. At one time Oriental rugs with bats in the corners were eagerly sought by barren women as a maternity charm. The value of such magic carpets is not recorded.

Hockey stars here

Captain Johnny Mariucci and Doug Bentley, veteran members of the Chicago Blackhawks hockey team will be guest speakers at the open house and smoker for veterans of World Wars I and II being given by the Mt. Prospect Post No. 525 of the American Legion Monday night, November 17 at 5 Elmhurse rd. in Prospect Heights. The meeting opens a membership campaign by the post in which the activities and benefits of Legion membership will be presented to all the eligible newcomers in Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights and an invitation is extended to all veterans to attend this meeting.

Following the informal talks by the hockey stars, refreshments will be served and an opportunity for card games will be available.

Plans were also announced this week for the Annual Turkey Raffle which will be sponsored by the post at the same location on Friday evening, November 21. This annual event has become quite popular with the community and some new features will be introduced this year. Ralph Hauptley, entertainment chairman for the Post and Richard Busse are handling the program.

You Will Never Know

By C. W. Lussman of Sieburg Drug Co.

You will never know, if you wait for your friends to tell you, that you have an unpleasant breath, for they would not risk hurting your feelings . . . neither will they stop being your friends.

But your doctor or dentist will advise you frankly if you possess this undesirable trait. More than that, they will help you to eliminate it by checking teeth, tonsils, and stomach.

Good dentrifices used regularly are important in keeping teeth and gums free from food deposits which often contribute to an unpleasant breath. Reliable druggists carry a complete line of the best dental aids.

Backstage with senior play at Arlington Hi

by LOIS KROEBER

Thursday and Friday, November 13 and 14, when the houselights dim, the curtain rises, and the audience settles back in their seats to witness the first act of the senior play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" at Arlington high school, they will see a lively comedy that is complete in every detail, costumes, scenery, sound effects and all. They'll see the finished product, but a lot has gone on behind the scenes to make this production possible.

Hard and tedious work goes into the making of a play. The cast must spend many hours perfecting their lines and practicing their motions, but they can have fun, too. For example, a scene in the third act calls for Dick (John Shanley) to kiss Emily (Dorothy Schlemmer). The first time it was rehearsed, the entire cast stood in a circle around Dorothy and John, eagerly waiting to see how they would go about it. Of course, after several rehearsals they became accustomed to it.

The play takes place in 1923, so naturally the costumes have to be of that period. If you don't think they would be very hard to find, just ask some of the students who spent several weeks hunting them up. By searching through attics, old trunks, and going to the Old Folks' Home, they produced several dresses that undoubtedly would have been considered the "New Look" of 1923. They are complete with dropped hemlines and long waists and made of georgette crepe and velvet. Wait until you see that chic little grey hat that one of the girls wears. Whenever anyone brought in a new article of clothing, the whole cast would go into fits of laughter over the funny looking clothes that people wore back in the early 20's.

The students made their own sound effects records, too. In the first act it was necessary to produce a noise similar to that of a boat leaving dock. The speech class solved this problem in an ingenious way. By using a whistle, shouting "bon voyage" and "good bye", and blowing into empty pop bottles, they produced a sound very much like that of a big ocean liner getting ready to leave. To top it off, the band played "Anchors Aweigh" while the record was being made. Watch for this scene in the first act, and you will agree that this student-made sound effects record is really good.

There are some French words in the play, and the cast had quite a time pronouncing them correctly — especially Ronald Weigand, who plays Monsieur De La Croix, a French actor. (By the way, did you know that "Croix" is pronounced "Crah," and not "Croycks"?)

Other difficulties were also met and conquered. The two leading characters, Cornelia Skinner (Joan Mors) and Emily Kimbrough (Dorothy Schlemmer) were instructed by their mothers to keep their valuables in safety pockets, which they wear under their skirts. The stage crew had to make these. They fasten around the waist and hang on a strap to the knee. Cornelia and Emily also had to practice leaping to the upper bunk of a double decker bed. Try it sometime if you think it's easy.

The stage and gymnasium were not always available for rehearsals, but that didn't stop the cast. Play practices were conducted in the library, the study hall, various classrooms, or wherever space could be found. If the gym was being used for basketball practice or for the adult evening classes, the cast and Mrs. Anderson, the director, would patiently trudge upstairs to the library and rehearse there in the midst of tables, chairs and bookshelves.

Now everything is ready for opening night. The delightful story of two young girls on their first trip to Europe is really something to remember. You'll laugh when you see Emily's efforts to save a drowning man, Cornelia's bout with the measles, the bedbugs, and—but wait! to tell any more would be giving away the plot. Come to the A. H. T. H. S. gym tonight and find out the rest for yourself!

Large Cook county group to attend IAA sessions

Proof that farmers have come into their own in all respects, including business, community affairs, and government, will be borne out this next week when the Illinois Agricultural Association holds its 33rd annual convention November 17-21 in St. Louis, Mo.

Ever since 1941, IAA annual sessions have been held in Chicago. These meetings solved housing shortages for those attending, but did produce travel difficulties for far downstate farmers who couldn't attend the meetings by rail.

THIS YEAR it was felt some downstate city should have the meeting, but no community other than Chicago could provide living quarters for the 3,000 to 4,000 expected to attend the IAA sessions. Thus, St. Louis, just across the Mississippi from Illinois, was selected.

Voting delegates from each county farm bureau will be on hand for the convention, as will others representing the 145,851 members of the IAA.

OFFICERS and voting delegates of Cook county farm bureau intending to be present in St. Louis include: president L. W. Pohlman, secretary Arthur G. Holste, vice president Henry Eichholz, Henry L. Moehling, Joseph Brooks, George Koss, E. A. Schoppe, August Sell and Jacob Ouwenga.

Others planning to attend the session are Mrs. L. W. Pohlman, Mrs. Henry Moehling, Mrs. Ouwenga, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carncross, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra McClaughry, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mills, and Homer Long.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

Hey did you see it
Wasn't it swell
The Davies Circus
Really rang the bell .

No truer words were ever spoken. Thongs of little folks, middle sized solks and big folks, yes even some babes in arms saw a star studded, exciting, breath taking, beautiful exhibition of talent, skill, and courage. The crowd started into the gymnasium of the high school about 2:30 p. m. Sunday and the first show had to be delayed so that all who wanted to get in could. Once in they flocked around the equipment, saw clowns, and ate cotton candy, popcorn, and waved balloons. In other words it was an old time (like we promised) three ring, big-top, circus.

Yes and what was the best of all, the cold, blistery weather couldn't take away the full enjoyment of the show.

We would sure like to thank the custodians of the Arlington Heights Township High School who did such a swell job in helping us arrange the circus. We'd especially like to thank Stanley Woznick without whose help we'd never have been able to get along. Thanks again.

And while we're passing out the bouquets we mustn't forget our swell adult committee and our fine directors, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy deserve the majority of credit for putting the circus across, but they received excellent support and, cooperation from the other members of the adult committee.

Finally we'd like to express our appreciation to the high school administration who were really fine to let us use the gymnasium. Mr. Knoppel and Mr. Slichenmyer have given us support all the way down the line. We really appreciate it.

— Y. C. —

Say we're sorry to hear that Mr. Campbell's father is not in good health. Mr. Campbell was forced to go to see him. We hope that you father gets well soon, Mr. Campbell.

— Y. C. —

Now that the Y. C. is going into its winter season, we are planning a new series of activities. Some that have been suggested are toboggan parties, roller parties and ice skating parties. If you have any suggestions other than these, tell any of the officers what they are and let the officers know if you would be interetsed in these activities already named.

— Y. C. —

We may thank this lady
And we may thank that man
For being such a leader
For aiding such a plan
But when it comes right down to it
Where is the credit due?
The credit goes where support comes from
The credit goes to you!
So thanks for coming out
Thanks for making a success
Of the Y. C. circus
Of wishes you deserve the best.

Elk Grove Cemetery Association to meet

The annual meeting of the Elk Grove Cemeter Association will be held at the home of Clarence Schuette, 216 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights on November 20, starting at 8:00 p. m.

Symbol of Maternity

In Oriental art the bat is a symbol of maternity. At one time Oriental rugs with bats in the corners were eagerly sought by barren women as a maternity charm. The value of such magic carpets is not recorded.

Hockey stars here

Captain Johnny Mariucci and Doug Bentley, veteran members of the Chicago Blackhawks hockey team will be guest speakers at the open house and smoker for veterans of World Wars I and II being given by the Mt. Prospect Post No. 525 of the American Legion Monday night, November 17 at 5 Elmhurse rd. in Prospect Heights. The meeting opens a membership campaign by the post in which the activities and benefits of Legion membership will be presented to all the eligible newcomers in Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights and an invitation is extended to all veterans to attend this meeting.

Following the informal talks by the hockey stars, refreshments will be served and an opportunity for card games will be available.

Plans were also announced this week for the Annual Turkey Raffle which will be sponsored by the post at the same location on Friday evening, November 21. This annual event has become quite popular with the community and some new features will be introduced this year. Ralph Hauptley, entertainment chairman for the Post and Richard Busse are handling the program.
